D-DAY ANNIVERSARY — Today is the Silver Anniversary of D-Day in World War II. It was history's mightiest invasion. A thousand planes and gliders dropped paratroopers in Normandy, 2,400 U. S. and British bombers attacked Nazi defenses and nearly 3 million Allied troops began their invasion. Ships of all kinds numbered 1,000. Viet Reds Step Up Attacks As Midway Meeting Nears

40 Americans Said Victims Of Shellings

SAIGON (AP) — The enemy stepped up attacks across South Vietnam sharply in the last 24 hours, the allied command reported. Viet Cong rockets and mortars hit more than 100 allied bases and towns, while at least 464 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed in ground fighting.

Incomplete reports said at least 40 Americans were killed and more than 100 wounded in the ground fighting or by the enemy shelling. South Vietnamese casualties were said to be light.

There was speculation that the upsurge in enemy activity was an attempt to influence the conference between President Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu on Midway Island Sunday.

"It's just a little bit more pressure to perhaps cause the meeting at Midway to come up with some sort of concession," a spokesman for the U.S. Command commented. "It is to let the participants at Midway and the world know they are still capable of shooting off a lot of rockets even though the majority didn't do much."

The shelling was the heaviest since May 11, when North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops shelled more than 200 allied bases and towns. The shelling then was a big factor in a sharp jump in U.S. casualties that week to 430 killed.

U.S. headquarters said 46 of the rocket and mortar attacks Thursday night were significant, meaning they caused damage or casualties, but "overall, casualties and damage were light."

A communique said 19 of the significant attacks were against U.S. forces or installations. South Vietnamese headquarters said there were 82 "enemy-initiated incidents" directed at government military units or civilians. A spokesman said rockets and mortars fell into 10 provincial capitals and 16 district capitals. He said at least three Vietnamese civilians were known dead and 45 wounded.

The targets Thursday night included the big Bien Hoa base 15 miles northeast of Saigon, the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 40 miles north of Saigon, and the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division 28 miles northwest of Saigon.

One rocket hit a South Vietnamese ammunition dump five miles north of Saigon. It set off 50 tons of ammunition and wounded two soldiers. Two 100-pound rockets landed on the southeast fringe of the capital but caused little damage.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China charged today that Soviet troops have fired across the Manchurian border and have sent hundreds of armored vehicles into Sinkiang Province in the far northwest in incidents "still occurring incessantly."

Moscow promptly denied the charges. Peking probably wanted to get its message across while world Communist parties are meeting in Moscow. Red China has boycotted the meeting but it has its supporters there.

The Chinese charged the Russians have been carrying on border provocations and kidnapping Chinese since the clashes on the Manchurian frontier in March. The latest reported incident was an incursion by Soviet planes May 31.

From a Chinese point of view, any incidents in Sinkiang Province would be particularly important since this is a testing ground for Red China's nuclear weapons. Now called the Sinkiang-Uighur Autonomous Region, the Russians have coveted this sprawling territory since czarist days.

10 Policemen Taken Off Duty With Pay In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ten policemen allegedly involved in a gambling payoff scandal have been relieved of duty, with pay, while the police chief and safety director conduct a full-scale departmental investigation.

Eight of the officers were indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring with organized gamblers. The other two relieved were named co-conspirators, but were not indicted.

Police Chief Robert Baus, meeting with newsmen Thursday after a closed door session with the men involved, said he was relieving the officers from duty temporarily in fairness "to the citizens and . . . the grand jury."

Baus emphasized that the men were not being suspended. Under civil service regulations, the accused officers cannot be suspended until after the federal court has ruled on their cases.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner said Thursday he had ordered Safety Director Fred Simon and Baus to personally conduct the departmental investigation.

"Serious accusations have been made against officers of our division of police," the Democratic mayor said, adding that the men deserve the speediest possible trial.

Simon said that after his investigation is completed it will be decided if any further course of action will be taken with regard to the accused officers.

Simon, who earlier had asserted that none of the men would be suspended, said such action would give the appearance of prejudging their guilt.

The federal grand jury returned nine indictments, eight against policemen and one against Frank Baldassaro, accused of running a Columbus numbers game operation.

All nine were charged with conspiring to prevent the federal government from lawfully collecting wagering taxes. Particulars in the indictments alleged varying payments made to the officers by gamblers.

Officers indicted were Capt. Jerry Ryan, chief of the intelligence squad; Capt. Robert Taylor, vice squad chief; Lt. William Voorhis, a vice squad officer; Sgts. Robert Brodt and Frank Starkey, and Patrolmen Gary Roach, Robert Martin and James Marcus, all of the vice squad.

Also relieved of duty were Sgts. Melvin Helmandollar and John Kaiser, who were among ten persons listed by the grand jury as co-conspirators, but not indicted.

They testified before the grand jury under guarantee of immunity from future prosecution.

Safety Director's News Ban Lifted

Safety Director Robert Adkins brief ban on allowing news media access to public records was lifted at about 11 a.m. today.

The safety director's ban apparently stemmed from his reaction to a story which appeared on page one of The Herald Thursday.

The story reported that a scheduled "sick day" walkout by the police department has been delayed. It quoted a source as saying that if assurance of a 40-hour work week for the police department were not forthcoming, they would reschedule the walkout.

Members of the Police Department were on duty today, following a meeting Thursday night with the safety director.

YESTERDAY evening prior to the meeting, Adkins phoned the news editor of The Herald at his home, demanding the name of the person who had given the information about the situation.

When the information the safety director sought was not given him, he stated that the press' access to public records at the police department would be "seriously curtailed."

He issued an order to members of the force not to permit members of the news media to see accident or crash records.

OSU Security Set For Visits

Westmoreland,
Agnew On Campus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Amid hints of campus disorders, secret security plans are in effect at Ohio State University for weekend visits of Army Chief of Staff Gen. William Westmoreland and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Gen. Westmoreland will participate today in an Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) commissioning ceremony. OSU ROTC officials expect about 3,000 persons to attend the 5 p. m. event in Mereson Auditorium.

Vice President Agnew will deliver the commencement address at Saturday's graduation exercises. He also will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Ohio State expects at least 40,000 persons to attend the 9 a. m. graduation in the 80,000 seat Ohio Stadium. Rain could crowd the ceremony into the 13,497 seat St. John Arena.

University officials say there are hints of campus demonstrations during the visits. One official said a flier distributed on campus called for a rally Saturday at 15th and High Streets—about a mile from the stadium. He said there also were reports of a silent walkout by some graduates during the commencement exercises.

Most Ohio State students have completed their final examinations and have left the campus. Officials hope this will reduce the size of any disturbance.

OSU campus police and the Ohio Highway Patrol are planning security arrangements for Westmoreland. Both will join Secret Service agents in providing protection for the vice president.

Have Hearing
For Tingler

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard Lee Tingler, 29, was arraigned in Franklin County Common Pleas Court today on two counts of murder and one each for assault with intent to kill and robbery.

Tingler is charged in connection with a robbery in a Columbus dairy store last October 20 during which two teenage employees were slain and a woman store manager severely beaten and left for dead.

Tingler was put on the FBI's list of Ten Most Wanted Men following the slaying. He was apprehended last month on a farm near Dill City, Okla.

Tingler wore a blue knit pull-over shirt and soiled gray jeans for the 1-minute arraignment before Judge Fred Shoemaker. He stood quietly throughout the proceedings and at the end was quickly returned to a cell in a county jail adjoining the Franklin County Court House.

Court appointed attorneys, former U.S. Attorney Robert Draper and Joseph Hans, entered pleas of innocent for the slender crewcut Tingler.

25th Anniversary Of D-Day Assault Noted In France

SAINTE-MERE-EGLISE, France (AP) — "Under the command of Gen. Eisenhower, Allied naval forces, supported by strong air forces, began landing Allied armies this morning on the northern coast of France."

This message from Col. Ernest Dupuy in London came at 9:33 a.m. London time 25 years ago today. D-Day had begun and Hitler's four-year grip on Europe would be smashed in 11 months.

The liberators—Americans, Britons, Canadians and soldiers of the Free French army—were back on the beaches and in the villages today where people can be grateful to them without embarrassment and the old soldiers proud without complexes.

They came late Thursday night to this village which says it was the first in Europe to regain its freedom in 1944.

Paratroopers of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division jumped into Sainte-Mere-Eglise shortly after midnight. One soldier caught his chute on the church steeple and hung from it for hours, but by 4 a.m. the 100-man German garrison had pulled out and the village was in American hands.

Cabs Fail To Meet City Standards; Are Grounded

UNSAFE — These are two of the unsafe tires that caused police officials to remove cabs of the A and B Cab Co. from the street. Others cabs were "grounded" because of faulty exhaust systems, no tail or brake lights, and no headlights.

The Circleville Police Department removed five cabs owned by Mrs. Audrey Kearns, 139 W. Franklin St., and the A and B Cab Company, Lancaster Pike.

Police removed the cabs from the street at 10 a.m. today after they failed to comply with a city safety ordinance, according to Police Chief Robert Temple.

The cabs were inspected today. "Any time the driver and passengers have to roll down the windows to let the fumes escape, it becomes a hazard," Temple said.

"THE safety of the residents of the city come first, above all else."

But Mrs. Kearns had a different story. She claims that the cabs have dents on them and some of the tires are slightly bald, but are otherwise safe.

Mafia Loan Shark Involved In Questionable Securities

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mafia loan shark and his son are involved in a nationwide series of deals in which millions of dollars of commercial loans were obtained by using questionable insurance policies and bonds as collateral.

The names of John A. Masiello Sr. and his son, John Jr., turned up in an investigation of the severe financial problems of insurance companies in Oklahoma, Florida and Arizona.

Earlier this year, the elder Masiello was also in the news when the New York State Investigation Commission disclosed that companies he controlled had received more than a half-million-dollars in Small Business Administration loans. The SBA loans have since been recalled and repaid.

The commission identified the elder Masiello as a member of the Mafia organization formerly headed by Vito Genovese. Both father and son also are under indictment on bribery and conspiracy charges in connection with Post Office Department mail hauling contracts.

As part of the insurance deals, the Masiellos received most of $550,000 lent by a New York bank. Collateral for the loans was insurance policies and surety bonds issued by companies in Oklahoma and Florida.

And a $150,000 bond issued by the Florida company was used to purchase a paid up annuity from the Arizona insurance firm for John Masiello Jr. Annuities from the Arizona firm also are being used as collateral for loans.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, recently warned federal banking officials that "a large number of banks across the country stand to lose millions of dollars in loans collateralized by questionable insurance policies." Patman put the total at $25 million.

The Masiello loans are just a small part of the wheeling and dealing now unfolding.

Investigators are checking possible links to other Mafia members.

They also are trying to unravel the tangle of deals which have led to financial woes of these companies:

—State Fire and Casualty Co. of Miami, Fla. This firm had been licensed to write insurance in 26 states before Florida officials announced it was $8 million in the red and asked a court to dissolve it.

—Community National Life Insurance Co. of Tulsa, Okla. It is in court custody while an interim management group appointed by the court tries to determine the extent of its losses.

—Financial Security Life Insurance Co. of Phoenix, Ariz. It was suspended by the state after a $75,000 company check bounced. Officials estimate it is more than $7 million in the red.

But, say investigators, hard-hit are thousands of people who may lose their investments in life insurance issued by the companies and whose claims may never be paid.

One example is the widow of a soldier killed last November in Vietnam. The widow, whom investigators would not identify, is awaiting the outcome of an audit to learn how much, if anything, she will collect on the

Safety Director's
News Ban Lifted

Safety Director Robert Adkins brief ban on allowing news media access to public records was lifted at about 11 a. m. today.

The safety director's ban apparently stemmed from his reaction to a story which appeared on page one of The Herald Thursday.

The story reported that a scheduled "sick day" walkout by the police department has been delayed. It quoted a source as saying that if assurance of a 40-hour work week for the police department were not forthcoming, they would reschedule the walkout.

Members of the Police Department were on duty today, following a meeting Thursday night with the safety director.

YESTERDAY evening prior to the meeting, Adkins provided the news editor of The Herald at his home, demanding the name of the person who had given the information about the situation.

When the information the safety director sought was not given him, he stated that the press' access to public records at the police department would be "seriously curtailed."

He issued an order to members of the force not to permit members of the news media to see accident or complaint records, stating that news information was to be released only by himself or Chief Robert Temple.

Following a meeting with Mayor Richard Gerhardt today, the ban on the news media was lifted.

Members of the police force were not discussing any progress or lack of progress in their negotiations for a 40-hour week today.

Have Hearing
For Tingler

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard Lee Tingler, 29, was arraigned in Franklin County Common Pleas Court today on two counts of murder and one each for assault with intent to kill and robbery.

Tingler is charged in connection with a robbery in a Columbus dairy store last October 20 during which two teenage employees were slain and a woman store manager severely beaten and left for dead.

Tingler was put on the FBI's list of Ten Most Wanted Men following the slaying. He was apprehended last month on a farm near Dill City, Okla.

Tingler wore a blue knit pull-over shirt and soiled gray jeans for the 1-minute arraignment before Judge Fred Shoemaker. He stood quietly throughout the proceedings and at the end was quickly returned to a cell in a county jail adjoining the Franklin County Court House.

Court appointed attorneys, former U.S. Attorney Robert Draper and Joseph Hans, entered pleas of innocent for the slender crewcut Tingler.

Greek Inmate
Escapes Junta

ATHENS (AP) — Alexandros Panagoulis, convicted of trying to kill Premier George Papadopoulos, has escaped from his military prison, the government announced today.

The 30-year-old ex-army private, arrested last August when he tried to blow up the premier's car on a seafarers road, made his getaway Thursday night.

He was sentenced to death Nov. 17, for attempting the violent overthrow of the regime and for desertion. The military tribunal gave him 18 years in prison for his assassination attempt.

Since then he has been held in a series of prisons.

Compromise
ABM Plan
Is Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal which would delay deployment of an antimissile system for a year—while radar and computer components are being tested—is being forged by a special Senate Armed Services subcommittee.

The recommendation expected from the research subcommittee would be aimed at averting a bitter Senate showdown over the Nixon administration's Safeguard antiballistic missile—ABM—program.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., first put forth the compromise two weeks ago, and it is now understood to have the support of two other members of the five-man subcommittee—Sens. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., the chairman, and Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

The recommendation, which would be purely advisory to the full committee, comes as the Senate fight over the ABM moves toward its final stages. The committee is preparing to start next week to write the $25 billion military procurement bill.

Administration spokesmen previously have reacted coldly to proposed compromises which would delay deployment while providing for continued ABM research. President Nixon's program calls for the beginning of construction at two sites and funds to buy land for 12 more sites.

Mafia Loan Shark Involved In Questionable Securities

By DONLD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Mafia loan shark and his son are involved in a nationwide series of deals in which millions of dollars of commercial loans were obtained by using questionable insurance policies and bonds as collateral.

The names of John A. Masiello Sr. and his son, John Jr., turned up in an investigation of the severe financial problems of insurance companies in Oklahoma, Florida and Arizona.

Earlier this year, the elder Masiello was also in the news when the New York State Investigation Commission disclosed that companies he controlled had received more than a half-million-dollars in Small Business Administration loans. The SBA loans have since been recalled and repaid.

The commission identified the elder Masiello as a member of the Mafia organization formerly headed by Vito Genovese. Both father and son also are under indictment on bribery and conspiracy charges in connection with Post Office Department mail hauling contracts.

As part of the insurance deals, the Masiellos received most of $550,000 lent by a New York bank. Collateral for the loans was insurance policies and surety bonds issued by companies in Oklahoma and Florida.

And a $150,000 bond issued by the Florida company was used to purchase a paid up annuity from the Arizona insurance firm for John Masiello Jr. Annuities from the Arizona firm also are being used as collateral for loans.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, recently warned federal banking officials that "a large number of banks across the country stand to lose millions of dollars in loans collateralized by questionable insurance policies." Patman put the total at $25 million.

The Masiello loans are just a small part of the wheeling and dealing now unfolding.

Investigators are checking possible links to other Mafia members.

They also are trying to unravel the tangle of deals which have led to financial woes of these companies:

—State Fire and Casualty Co. of Miami, Fla. This firm had been licensed to write insurance in 26 states before Florida officials announced it was $8 million in the red and asked a court to dissolve it.

—Community National Life Insurance Co. of Tulsa, Okla. It is in court custody while an interim management group appointed by the court tries to determine the extent of its losses.

—Financial Security Life Insurance Co. of Phoenix, Ariz. It was suspended by the state after a $75,000 company check bounced. Officials estimate it is more than $7 million in the red.

But, say investigators, hardest hit are thousands of people who may lose their investments in life insurance issued by the companies and whose claims may never be paid.

One example is the widow of a soldier killed last November in Vietnam. The widow, whom investigators would not identify, is awaiting the outcome of an audit to learn how much, if anything, she will collect on the $75,000 policy he had with Community National.

According to testimony at a public hearing, Community National did a lot of business with people who used virtually worthless stock to purchase single premium, paid up life insurance policies.

Stuart C. Goldberg, a Securities and Exchange Commission enforcement attorney, sketched the dealings at the April 2 hearing before the Oklahoma insurance commissioner. Goldberg had been an assistant U.S. attorney in New York until last January when he was asked to join the SEC to handle this complex case.

The Chinese charged the Russians have been carrying on border provocations and kidnapping Chinese since the clashes on the Manchurian frontier in March. The latest reported incident was an incursion by Soviet planes May 31.

From a Chinese point of view, any incidents in Sinkiang Province would be particularly important since this is a testing ground for Red China's nuclear weapons. Now called the Sinkiang-Uighur Autonomous Region, the Russians have coveted this sprawling territory since czarist days.

JAPAN-BOUND — Marsha Willoughby takes time out from a practice session with her instructor, Mr. William O'Neill, to reflect on her trip to Japan. including the 82nd's commander at the time, Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, were back in town to watch two planes drop dummies on the square in a simulated attack.

Gavin, who landed in a swamp outside the town, said his memories of D-Day are strangely hazy. "I was occupied with what I would do on the ground. There were people down there with guns that did not like us and my mind just moved from one thing to another without saving much of it."

At 6:30 a.m. men were moving into the beaches, the Americans at Omaha and Utah, and the British and Canadians to the east at Juno, Sword and Gold.

On Omaha beach, casualties were heavy and the situation was uncertain until after noon.

Col. William Sharp of Pennington, N.J., then a 19-year-old lieutenant, drove an armored vehicle onto the beach at 11:45 a.m.

"We went straight ahead," he said. "My orders were to proceed to a certain point and take the waterproofing off my vehicle. To the right and left people would be killed, but we were occupied with our waterproofing. We were safe on the beach, but three days later my unit was nearly destroyed in a Panzer attack."

American casualties in the first 24 hours were put at 6,603 by the 1st Army, including more than 3,000 dead and missing. British and Canadian forces had about 3,500 to 4,000 casualties.

These men were being honored today at ceremonies in the American and British sectors. The memorials were laid by Gen. of the Army Omar Bradley; Gen. Sir Richard Gale, commander of the British airborne invasion force, and Gen. Sir Charles Ellworthy, commander-in-chief of the Royal Air Force.

including the 82nd's commander at the time, Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, were back in town to watch two planes drop dummies on the square in a simulated attack.

Gavin, who landed in a swamp outside the town, said his memories of D-Day are strangely hazy. "I was occupied with what I would do on the ground. There were people down there with guns that did not like us and my mind just moved from one thing to another without saving much of it."

At 6:30 a.m. men were moving into the beaches, the Americans at Omaha and Utah, and the British and Canadians to the east at Juno, Sword and Gold.

On Omaha beach, casualties were heavy and the situation was uncertain until after noon.

Col. William Sharp of Pennington, N.J., then a 19-year-old lieutenant, drove an armored vehicle onto the beach at 11:45 a.m.

"We went straight ahead," he said. "My orders were to proceed to a certain point and take the waterpumping off my vehicle. To the right and left people would be killed, but we were occupied with our waterpumping. We were safe on the beach, but three days later my unit was nearly destroyed in a Panzer attack."

American casualties in the first 24 hours were put at 6,603 by the 1st Army, including more than 3,900 dead and missing. British and Canadian forces had about 3,500 to 4,000 casualties.

These men were being honored today at ceremonies in the American and British sectors. The memorials were laid by Gen. of the Army Omar Bradley; Gen. Sir Richard Gale, commander of the British airborne invasion force, and Gen. Sir Charles Ellworthy, commander-in-chief of the Royal Air Force.

Ladies Night At Turkish Bath Covered By Press

ISTANBUL (AP) — It was ladies' night at the Turkish bath, but the wives at the International Chamber of Commerce convention didn't know they'd be pinups in the Turkish papers.

While their businessmen husbands attended to convention business Wednesday, about a dozen wives from as many countries got a Turkish-style scrubbing in one of the fashionable baths in this historic metropolis.

As they lay on the big marble Navel Stone washing themselves and being scrubbed by Turkish women, they were oblivious to the women photographers covering the bath party for the local press.

The next day, photos in color and black and white appeared in the newspapers showing the naked ladies in a variety of positions.

It caused quite a stir at the convention.

"Tasteless and unconscionable invasion of privacy" is what ICC Secretary-General Walter Hill called it. In letters to Turkey's ICC chapters and the national journalists' association, he said: "I am sure this action caused great embarrassment in the Turkish National Committee of the ICC, particularly to the ladies committee."

John Millington, director of Time-Life Books, said: "I can only speak from a point of sorrow that our lovely visit in Istanbul... should be tarnished by such an invasion of personal privacy."

Mrs. Judd Polk of New York, one of the ladies whose picture was published, wouldn't discuss it.

"No comment," she snapped. "I have nothing to say." Not all the ladies were upset. "It's okay with me," said Mrs. Hugo Timonen of Finland. "I was at that Turkish bath with my daughter. No, we don't mind at all."

Fayette Memorial Hospital Receives $500,000 Legacy

WASHINGTON C.H. — Wilbur J. Welton, a retired Fayette County farmer who never married, has left a legacy of over half a million dollars to Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

The value of the late Mr. Welton's estate, most of it in government bonds, will top $550,000, according to preliminary estimates. A formal appraisal may show it to be much larger.

The will, signed Nov. 23, 1968, was presented for probate Tuesday by Richard Rankin, his attorney and friend.

After making personal and other bequests of money and property to the total value of approximately $42,000, the document contains this paragraph:

"In memory of the Welton Family, and in grateful acknowledgement of the invaluable public services rendered by it, I give, devise and bequeath to the trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital all of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate of every kind and description. I attach no conditions or limitations upon this gift, trusting to the judgement and good will of the public spirited citizens who undertake the responsibilities of trustees to see that it is properly and beneficially used."

Other bequests in the will include $5,000 to Spring Grove Church and $2,000 to the Trustees of Washington Cemetery to be invested and the income used to maintain the Welton family plot.

Teddy's Mom Thanks Ev For Speech

BOSTON (AP) — The day after Sen. Everett M. Dirksen delivered a Senate speech critical of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the latter's mother telephoned Dirksen to thank him for his "temperate tone," the Boston Globe says.

In a dispatch from its Washington bureau, the Globe said Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy began her call from Hyannis Port, Mass., by thanking the Illinois Republican for his kindnesses to another son, the late President John F. Kennedy.

"Now I'm calling to thank you for the gracious and temperate tone of your speech yesterday," the newspaper quoted her as saying.

"You made your points without resorting to personalities."

The Globe said Dirksen later encountered the Massachusetts senator in the Capitol and said: "You'll never guess who called me this morning—your mother."

Kennedy grinned and walked away, the newspaper said.

Dirksen's floor speech questioned Kennedy's "wisdom and judgment" in questioning military tactics in Vietnam.

Bradley Denies D-Day Retreat Was Considered

BAYEUX, France (AP) — Gen. Omar Bradley says, "I never dreamed of abandoning the attack on Omaha beach."

Bradley was commenting Thursday on a report by Cornelius Ryan that the Americans "came close to turning around" after no progress had been made on Omaha Beach after six hours. Ryan, author of "The Longest Day," a book on the Normandy invasion which sold 10 million copies, said he learned about Omaha Beach hundreds of conversations.

Bradley, who attended the 25th anniversary ceremonies at Omaha Beach, said: "Watching from the bridge of my ship when things were going badly. I thought about what would happen if the troops on the beach did not advance."

"Another division was due to land and I had to think about sending them to Utah Beach where things were moving better. But no withdrawal from Omaha was considered."

Fulbright Hits 'Token Cuts' In Viet Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says a limited withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam would be of little value unless it is a prelude to more extensive cutbacks and a political settlement of the war—which he doesn't foresee in the near future.

The Arkansas Democrat who chairs the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee said in an interview his pessimism stems from President Nixon's Wednesday speech charging critics of administration defense policies with being new isolationists who want unilateral disarmament.

That speech was a certain topic at today's brief and closed appearance of Secretary of State William P. Rogers before the committee prior to his leaving for the upcoming meeting on Midway Island between Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

There have been constant reports that Nixon and Thieu would announce at their Sunday meeting a withdrawal of 50,000 U.S. troops from the war zone.

"It would be a good thing to bring some of them home," Fulbright said. "They ought to bring all of them home." But "If it's used simply to placate those who disagree with their policies, it won't accomplish anything."

Fulbright said the Nixon speech sounded like those of former President Johnson and his secretary of state, Dean Rusk.

"It looks as if it's almost a complete adaptation of the policies of the past administration," said the senator who was a bitter critic of the Johnson war policies.

Halt Violence In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Police dispatched 35 men to the area around Collinwood High School on the city's far east side Thursday to end a day-long series of racial incidents. Ten persons were arrested.

Police said those arrested included three 16-year-old white boys who allegedly broke a WJW-TV newsman's camera, and three Negroes, two 19 and one 21, who allegedly had a loaded revolver in their car.

Police said trouble at the predominantly white, 3,200-pupil high school began Thursday morning when a large group of white youths armed with sticks, bats, and metal pipes assaulted a group of about 10 Negroes in front of the school. No one was seriously injured, police said.

Police reported that large groups of white youths attempted to march around the school twice in the afternoon. Police said windows were broken out of a car during one march, and that police scuffled with marchers in the other incident.

Police said some of the youths involved were not students. No trouble was reported inside the school.

Airport Firemen Stay Off Work In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Civilian firefighters employed at Cleveland Hopkins Airport stayed off the job on the first shift today in a dispute over overtime pay.

Gunther E. Katzmar, commissioner of airports, immediately called in supervisory personnel to man equipment used in crash rescue operations.

An official of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 100 said a cutback in overtime for the 30 firemen would cost each of them $2,000 a year.

Katzmar ordered the cutback Sunday.

The work stoppage reportedly will spread to Burke Lake Lakefront Airport, where 10 members of the air safety department are employed.

Ohio Sets Welfare Law Changes

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes has moved to make Ohio's residency requirements for welfare recipients conform with a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision.

The high court ruled April 21 that state residency requirements to establish eligibility for persons applying for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) or aid to the disabled were unconstitutional.

Currently pending before the court are cases to test the constitutionality of state residency requirements for the blind and aged.

However, on June 2 the Department of Health, Education and Welfare adopted regulations requiring states to tell welfare applicants denied assistance in the four federal programs because of state residency requirements that they now are eligible.

Ohio and other states were given 30 days to comply or challenge the regulations.

An administration bill was introduced in the Ohio Senate Thursday by Sen. Clara E. Weisenborn, R-5 Dayton to comply with the HEW directive.

This means, in effect, that welfare applicants would no longer have to live in Ohio for one year before qualifying for assistance.

The bill applies only to the four federal programs and not to Ohio's general relief program.

Two members of the now defunct Ohio Crime Commission, Sens. Ralph S. Regula, R - 29 Navarre and Oliver Ocasak, D-27 Northfield, introduced a bill to provide a major overhaul of Ohio's juvenile court system.

The bill complies with a May, 1967, decision of the U.S. Supreme Court which generally overturned many of the procedures in juvenile courts throughout the country.

The court ruled that juveniles have the same constitutional rights as adults—right of counsel, right to confront his accusers, right to cross examine witnesses and the privilege to remain silent.

The case was significant in Ohio because a court of appeals held that a proceeding against 14-year-old Buddy Lynn Whittington, of Baltimore in Fairfield County, who was accused of murder, was civil in nature and to support a finding of delinquency, the evidence need not be proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

The Whittington case was appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court which remanded it back to the lower court in light of its May, 1967, decision.

The bill establishes in detail the proper steps to insure that a juvenile receives a fair hearing. It redefines "juvenile delinquency" to include only those children under 18 who have committed an act which would be a crime if committed by an adult.

The bill would curb the use of jails for the detention of juveniles by requiring counties to establish detention centers or homes. It sets a minimum age of 16 for the transfer of a child to an adult criminal court for trial.

In the House, a bill to give a tax break to those who improve property in run-down inner city areas was adopted 86-2. It now goes to the Senate.

Sponsored by Rep. Robert Netzeley, R-7 Laura, the bill was amended on the floor to provide the same tax incentive to industry that it gives to homeowners.

The bill provides that property owners who spend $2,500 or more on remodeling be given a five-year exemption on property taxes.

A 10-year exemption would be given for new construction in inner city areas.

Netzeley said the bill would give an incentive to private enterprise and stop the drain on the taxpayer.

"The small amount of tax revenue collected in the ghetto areas is not significant and everyone would profit if the problems were solved," he said.

Negro Majority Protests Transfer Of White Principal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Walter Zach has been principal of Taft High School for six years. But he wants a transfer to work with maladjusted youth.

Parents, students and teachers—a large number of them Negroes — are protesting his leaving because, as one mother put it, "He has done a lot for our children, gotten them into college."

Zach is white. The protests have gained the attention of the city school board.

Supt. Paul A. Miller met with the school's faculty Thursday for nearly two hours to discuss Zach's transfer. He is expected to be named head of the McMillan Center.

A group of mothers known as the "Concerned Parents of Taft High School" has collected 300 signatures on petitions in an effort to have Zach stay. A student leader has submitted student petitions to the school board.

Zach, sitting in his office Thursday, was touched by their loyalty. He watched two students standing nearby who had signed a petition.

"You know, it's funny. Today I really had to ream out those guys for playing around in the corridor. And now look at them."

Miller said Zach asked for the transfer 18 months ago "in the belief he had reached his peak of effectiveness here although it was not what he personally wanted it to be."

Kearsage Makes Port

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — The U.S. carrier Kearsage steamed into the harbor of this big U.S. Naval Base today with more than 190 survivors from the destroyer Frank E. Evans.

The skipper of the destroyer Cmdr. A. S. McLeomore, was scheduled to be the first man off the carrier with his executive officer for a news conference.

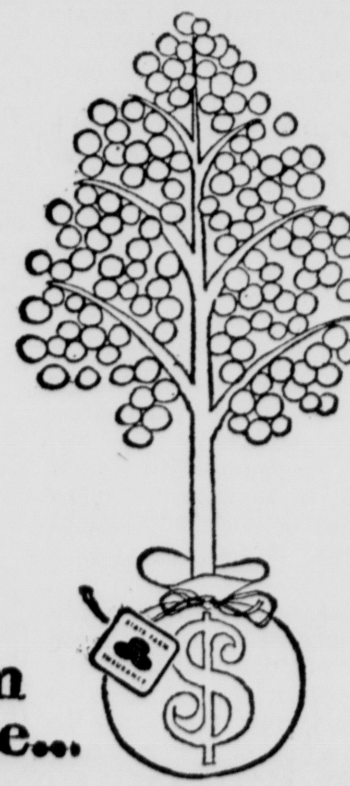

The rest of the destroyer's crew was to remain on board the Kearsage to receive fresh uniforms and identification cards. They were to come ashore after the news conference.

The destroyer and the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne collided during maneuvers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Tuesday in the South China Sea. The destroyer was sunk and 74 of her men were lost.

The Navy said the survivors would remain at the Subic Bay base indefinitely. A board of inquiry to investigate the collision is to convene here Monday.

Ladies Night At Turkish Bath Covered By Press

ISTANBUL (AP) — It was ladies' night at the Turkish bath, but the wives at the International Chamber of Commerce convention didn't know they'd be pinups in the Turkish papers.

While their businessmen husbands attended to convention business Wednesday, about a dozen wives from as many countries got a Turkish-style scrubbing in one of the fashionable baths in this historic metropolis.

As they lay on the big marble Navel Stone washing themselves and being scrubbed by Turkish women, they were oblivious to the women photographers covering the bath party for the local press.

The next day, photos in color and black and white appeared in the newspapers showing the naked ladies in a variety of positions.

It caused quite a stir at the convention.

"Tasteless and unconscion-

able invasion of privacy" is what ICC Secretary-General Walter Hill called it. In letters to Turkey's ICC chapters and the national journalists' association, he said: "I am sure this action caused great embarrassment in the Turkish National Committee of the ICC, particularly to the ladies committee."

John Millington, director of Time-Life Books, said: "I can only speak from a point of sorrow that our lovely visit in Istanbul... should be tarnished by such an invasion of personal privacy."

Mrs. Judd Polk of New York, one of the ladies whose picture was published, wouldn't discuss it.

"No comment," she snapped. "I have nothing to say."

Not all the ladies were upset. "It's okay with me," said Mrs. Hugo Timonen of Finland. "I was at that Turkish bath with my daughter. No, we don't mind at all."

Fayette Memorial Hospital Receives $500,000 Legacy

WASHINGTON C.H. — Wilbur J. Welton, a retired Fayette County farmer who never married, has left a legacy of over half a million dollars to Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

The value of the late Mr. Welton's estate, most of it in government bonds, will top $550,000, according to preliminary estimates. A formal appraisal may show it to be much larger.

The will, signed Nov. 25, 1968, was presented for probate Tuesday by Richard Rankin, his attorney and friend.

After making personal and other bequests of money and property to the total value of approximately $42,000, the document contains this paragraph:

"In memory of the Welton Family, and in grateful acknowledgement of the invaluable public services rendered by it, I give, devise and bequeath to the trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital all of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate of every kind and description. I attach no conditions or limitations upon this gift, trusting to the judgement and good will of the public spirited citizens who undertake the responsibilities of trustees to see that it is properly and beneficially used."

Other bequests in the will include $5,000 to Spring Grove Church and $2,000 to the trustees of Washington Cemetery to be invested and the income used to maintain the Welton family plot.

Teddy's Mom Thanks Ev For Speech

BOSTON (AP) — The day after Sen. Everett M. Dirksen delivered a Senate speech critical of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the latter's mother telephoned Dirksen to thank him for his "temperate tone," the Boston Globe says.

In a dispatch from its Washington bureau, the Globe said Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy began her call from Hyannis Port, Mass., by thanking the Illinois Republican for his kindnesses to another son, the late President John F. Kennedy.

"Now I'm calling to thank you for the gracious and temperate tone of your speech yesterday," the newspaper quoted her as saying.

"You made your points without resorting to personalities," the Globe said Dirksen later encountered the Massachusetts senator in the Capitol and said: "You'll never guess who called me this morning—your mother."

Kennedy grinned and walked away, the newspaper said.

Dirksen's floor speech questioned Kennedy's "wisdom and judgment" in questioning military tactics in Vietnam.

Bradley Denies D-Day Retreat Was Considered

BAYEUX, France (AP) — Gen. Omar Bradley says, "I never dreamed of abandoning the attack on Omaha beach."

Bradley was commenting Thursday on a report by Cornelius Ryan that the Americans "came close to turning around" after no progress had been made on Omaha Beach after six hours. Ryan, author of "The Longest Day," a book on the Normandy invasion which sold 10 million copies, said he learned about Omaha Beach hundreds of conversations.

Bradley, who attended the 25th anniversary ceremonies at Omaha Beach, said: "Watching from the bridge of my ship when things were going badly, I thought about what would happen if the troops on the beach did not advance."

"Another division was due to land and I had to think about sending them to Utah Beach where things were moving better. But no withdrawal from Omaha was considered."

Fulbright Hits 'Token Cuts' In Viet Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says a limited withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam would be of little value unless it is a prelude to more extensive cutbacks and a political settlement of the war—which he doesn't foresee in the near future.

The Arkansas Democrat who chairs the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee said in an interview his pessimism stems from President Nixon's Wednesday speech charging critics of administration defense policies with being new isolationists who want unilateral disarmament.

That speech was a certain topic at today's brief and closed appearance of Secretary of State William P. Rogers before the committee prior to his leaving for the upcoming meeting on Midway Island between Nixon and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

There have been constant reports that Nixon and Thieu would announce at their Sunday meeting a withdrawal of 50,000 U.S. troops from the war zone.

"It would be a good thing to bring some of them home," Fulbright said. "They ought to bring all of them home." But "if it's used simply to placate those who disagree with their policies, it won't accomplish anything."

Fulbright said the Nixon speech sounded like those of former President Johnson and his secretary of state, Dean Rusk.

"It looks as if it's almost a complete adaptation of the policies of the past administration," said the senator who was a bitter critic of the Johnson war policies.

Halt Violence In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Police dispatched 35 men to the area around Collinwood High School on the city's far east side Thursday to end a day-long series of racial incidents. Ten persons were arrested.

Police said those arrested included three 16-year-old white boys who allegedly broke a WJW-TV newsman's camera, and three Negroes, two 19 and one 21, who allegedly had a loaded revolver in their car.

Police said trouble at the predominantly white, 3,200-pupil high school began Thursday morning when a large group of white youths armed with sticks, bats, and metal pipes assaulted a group of about 10 Negroes in front of the school. No one was seriously injured, police said.

Police reported that large groups of white youths attempted to march around the school twice in the afternoon. Police said windows were broken out of a car during one march, and that police scuffled with marchers in the other incident.

Police said some of the youths involved were not students. No trouble was reported inside the school.

Airport Firemen Stay Off Work In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Civilian firefighters employed at Cleveland Hopkins Airport stayed off the job on the first shift today in a dispute over overtime pay.

Gunter E. Katzar, commissioner of airports, immediately called in supervisory personnel to man equipment used in crash rescue operations.

An official of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 100 said a cutback in overtime for the 30 firemen would cost each of them $2,000 a year.

Katzar ordered the cutback Sunday.

The work stoppage reportedly will spread to Burke Lake Lakefront Airport, where 10 members of the air safety department are employed.

Ohio Sets Welfare Law Changes

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes has moved to make Ohio's residency requirements for welfare recipients conform with a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision.

The high court ruled April 21 that state residency requirements to establish eligibility for persons applying for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) or aid to the disabled were unconstitutional.

Currently pending before the court are cases to test the constitutionality of state residency requirements for the blind and aged.

However, on June 2 the Department of Health, Education and Welfare adopted regulations requiring states to tell welfare applicants denied assistance in the four federal programs because of state residency requirements that they now are eligible.

Ohio and other states were given 30 days to comply or challenge the regulations.

An administration bill was introduced in the Ohio Senate Thursday by Sen. Clara E. Weisenborn, R-5 Dayton to comply with the HEW directive.

This means, in effect, that welfare applicants would no longer have to live in Ohio for one year before qualifying for assistance.

The bill applies only to the four federal programs and not to Ohio's general relief program.

Two members of the now defunct Ohio Crime Commission, Sens. Ralph S. Regula, R - 29 Navarre and Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Northfield, introduced a bill to provide a major overhaul of Ohio's juvenile court system.

The bill complies with a May, 1967, decision of the U.S. Supreme Court which generally overturned many of the procedures in juvenile courts throughout the country.

The court ruled that juveniles have the same constitutional rights as adults—right of counsel, right to confront his accusers, right to cross examine witnesses and the privilege to remain silent.

The case was significant in Ohio because a court of appeals held that a proceeding against 14-year-old Buddy Lynn Whittington, of Baltimore in Fairfield County, who was accused of murder, was civil in nature and to support a finding of delinquency, the evidence need not be proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

The Whittington case was appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court which remanded it back to the lower court in light of its May, 1967, decision.

The bill establishes in detail the proper steps to insure that a juvenile receives a fair hearing. It redefines "juvenile delinquency" to include only those children under 18 who have committed an act which would be a crime if committed by an adult.

The bill would curb the use of jails for the detention of juveniles by requiring counties to establish detention centers or homes. It sets a minimum age of 16 for the transfer of a child to an adult criminal court for trial.

In the House, a bill to give a tax break to those who improve property in run-down inner city areas was adopted 86-2. It now goes to the Senate.

Sponsored by Rep. Robert Netzel, R-7 Laura, the bill was amended on the floor to provide the same tax incentive to industry that it gives to homeowners.

The bill provides that property owners who spend $2,500 or more on remodeling be given a five-year exemption on property taxes.

A 10-year exemption would be given for new construction in inner city areas.

Netzel said the bill would give an incentive to private enterprise and stop the drain on the taxpayer.

"The small amount of tax revenue collected in the ghetto areas is not significant and everyone would profit if the problems were solved," he said.

A bill to allow Ohioans to bring into the state one quart of liquor upon which no Ohio tax has been paid was adopted 71-15. A bill to prohibit liquor permit holders from bringing liquor into Ohio from other states passed 79-9.

Sellout At Midway?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

In preparation for his meeting at Midway Island with Richard Nixon, President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam has been pulling out all the stops in his efforts to create a widespread Free Asia sentiment against a peace settlement that would let Communists into any interim South Vietnamese government. Thieu's hasty visits to Taiwan and to Seoul in South Korea were improvised because of his fear that the U.S. plans extra pressure at the Midway meeting to force him to permit the Viet Cong to submit a legislative slate and even a candidate for the Presidency in a special election.

What galvanized Thieu into action as his own emissary to Chiang Kai-shek in Taiwan and to President Chung Hee Park in South Korea was a subterranean tip from Washington that President Nixon has decided he must wind up the war swiftly or face the sort of political repudiation that sent Lyndon Johnson into retirement.

Naturally, the Nixon Administration doesn't want to sell the South Vietnamese out. But Thieu has heard mumbles that the White House is willing to take a chance on letting the Communists participate as Communists in an open South Vietnamese election. To arrange for this would require a vast eating of words in Saigon, which Thieu is not disposed to sanction.

Hence the unequivocal speech made by Thieu at the South Korean Military Academy outside of Seoul in which the South Vietnamese leader said, "We must demonstrate to the Communist aggressors that aggression cannot be rewarded, directly or indirectly." Upon his return to Saigon, Thieu then made a statement rejecting the Communist demands as "illogical" and saying that South Vietnam would fight alone rather than accept a coalition government with the Viet Cong. Thieu suspects that Nixon has made up his mind to risk the coming of an interim coalition government in Saigon if he can't get the North Vietnamese to make peace on any other basis. The deal would be to let the South Vietnamese vote to decide their own future. Since the Viet Cong might get a third of the vote in an election that permitted them to function as an openly sanctioned Communist party, the Thieu government might find itself at the mercy of a multi-party, anti-Communist and non-Communist fragmentation.

The Saigon government has never managed to weld Catholics, the Buddhists, and other non-Communist elements into a united front. With the vote split four and five ways, the Viet Cong might succeed in electing a fairly powerful group to serve in an interim government.

Should Thieu stand adamant at Midway against changing the South Vietnamese election laws, he must reckon with the possibility of a coup d'etat against him in Saigon. The Diem disaster is all too vivid in his mind.

Thieu's fears are echoed in the councils of Americans of both Left and Right who know the history of previous coalitions with Communists. President George Meany of the AFL-CIO is just as much against a concealed surrender to the Communists in South Vietnam as is Thieu himself. The American Conservative Union, which has been seceding in its support of the Nixon Administration since early February, would be just as horrified as George Meany to see the Viet Cong in a position to take over sensitive posts in a Saigon coalition.

As a reminder to Nixon while he journeys to his mid-Pacific rendezvous with Thieu, the lamentable story of post-war coalitions with the Communists should be blazoned on the record for everybody to see. There was a "national unity" government in Poland in 1945, with the peasant leader Stanislaw Mikolajczak trying to hold his own against the Stalinists. Within a year Mikolajczak was forced to flee to America for his life. Bulgaria, which had a coalition government for a brief moment, quickly went the way of Poland. In Hungary the post-war coalition lasted a bit longer than elsewhere, but with Communist troops in Budapest the local Stalinists finally forced the Small Holder and other parties to the wall. The Czechoslovak experiment with coalition came to the wall. The Czechoslovak son of the nation's founder, Thomas Masaryk, was pushed from an open window to his death.

As for mainland China, a tentative coalition between Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang and Mao Tse-tung's Communists was worked out by the innocents of our State Department. But when the Maoists inherited the arms seized by Soviet Russia from the Japanese in Manchuria, they didn't even have to go through with the charade of grabbing control of China through "free" elections. Coalition has failed to pay dividends for the Communists only in France and Italy, where aroused majorities quickly rose to kick Communist officials out of office.

Thieu knows all about the history of coalitions, and so does Richard Milhous Nixon. But the student Lef in the U.S., which doesn't care what happens abroad, has evidently forced Nixon to consider giving the Communists a chance to subvert the Thieu government if the Vietnamese can't prevent a coalition on their own.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

RENOWNED English punster Sidney Smith, sauntering down a narrow London slum street, espied two women hurrying insults at each other across the street from the upper windows of confronting tenements. Smith promptly commented, "It is obvious those wenches never will agree, because they are arguing from two different premises."

In the opinion of Helen Hayes, the supposedly ultra-sophisticated Alec Woolcott was in reality the most glibly celebrity of our time. When Helen's pixie husband, Charlie MacArthur and Ben Hecht were assigned to do the movie script of "Wuthering Heights," Woolcott demanded to see what they were doing to a work he considered his (and the real author, Emily Bronte, be damned). MacArthur and Hecht promptly wrote a scene wherein the book's hero, Heathcliff, came to America to fight Indians and romance dance-hall queens in Red Rock Gulch—and left it where Woolcott was sure to find it. He actually fell for the ridiculous jest—going into a rage and screaming, "You vandals have raped Emily Bronte!"

An unusually limber ghost turned up at the entrance gate of Purgatory but was told "You're in the wrong place, Bud. This ticket entitles you to join the angels in Heaven." "I know," nodded the ghost, "but on earth I was an outfielder on the New York Mets—and I want to make the trip up to Heaven gradually."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Soon the comforting, but blazing sun will be pouring its generous warmth on us. And just as soon many of us will luxuriate in sun bathing which, without moderation, brings on another severe sunburn, the pain of which we may have forgotten about.

It must be remembered that the burn of a winter-used sunlamp and the one caused by over exposure to late spring and summer sun rays are real burns that can do severe damage to the skin and the underlying tissues. The burns may vary as first, second and third degree burns and are no different from those caused by fire or electricity. They can be just as painful and incapacitating and it is for this reason that sun tanning must be done slowly.

Many of my readers have asked me about the possibility of developing skin cancer by overexposure to sunlight. There is no universal agreement about this by all doctors. Some believe that skin cancers may be the result of deep penetrating sunburn, especially in fair skinned people with little pigment. It is wise to follow the advice of one's own doctor about this. Moderation implies safety.

Gradual increases in the time of exposure to the sun enhance the fun and the feeling of well being, without the unnecessary pain. Remember that when the sun is reflected off the sand or the sea, even on a mild and cloudy day, the intensity may be great and may cause severe burns.

Protecting creams and lotions can be very effective but they do not keep the skin from burning when it is overexposed. They may give a false sense of safety from the midday sun.

Pernicious anemia is a remarkable disease that has a more remarkable history. When this unusual blood condition was first discovered more than one hundred years ago it was called Addison's anemia and in almost all instances, was fatal. In 1926, Dr. Minot and Dr. Murphy broke through the scientific barriers and found that pernicious anemia was caused by a deficiency of an important factor in the juices of the stomach. Later it was discovered that deficiency of vitamin B12 is one of the most important reasons for this condition.

There are many other elements in this very complex blood condition which strangely seems to occur most frequently in white people past the age of fifty who live in temperate climates.

It is astonishing that today, not a single person with pernicious anemia should be an invalid if the condition is found early and treated intensively. Almost miraculously, liver, once a discarded food, was found to be effective in the control of this disorder. Vitamin B12 given at regular intervals in addition to a highly nourishing diet supplemented with iron and minerals have kept people with pernicious anemia alive and productive. There are few greater scientific achievements than the control of this once fatal disease.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Above the clouds, where today's big commercial aircraft cruise in a tranquil, congestion-free atmosphere, the sun shines all day long, even if dark storms blow over the landscape below.

The situation is analogous to that faced by the nation's airports. They have tremendous potential if they can rise above their problems. If they can't, they and the economies they serve will live under a cloud.

The potential is this: Tremendous increases in air travel are in prospect for the next few years. The Federal Aviation Agency forecasts a doubling of passenger miles by 1975 and a tripling by 1980.

By the end of this year the Boeing 747, capable of seating nearly 400 passengers, will be in operation. In addition, personal and commercial craft are expected to increase by 100,000 before 1980.

Traffic of this sort can bring big economic advantages to an area, for whatever else travelers do they spend money. Whether for business or pleasure, they almost always take along their checkbooks.

But there are problems. Aircraft technology has far exceeded airport development during the past few years. The big jets are advanced, the airports are caught in a web of human, technological and financial problems.

Among them: Suitable sites are difficult to find; the cry of suburbanites against airport noise is becoming shrill as a jet; the problem of ground transportation has not been solved; money for improvements is lacking.

Congestion at airports, complicated by a lack of controllers, was pointed up this week by federal limitations placed on flights into and out of airports serving Chicago. Washington and New York metropolitan areas.

Delays already are costing the airline industry heavily. The cost of overtime, extra crews, fuel and lost time is estimated by the industry to cost more than $100 million a year.

This figure doesn't include losses to regional economies resulting from poor service, and these losses can be enormous. Corporations, for example, are reluctant to establish branches in areas not easily accessible.

Perhaps the biggest problem of all is to finance the improvements needed in terminal facilities and runways, and in some areas, to relocate airports in less congested sites.

Who should pay for these improvements? That is the question that is being asked by the 'Toilet Paper' Party.

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP)—School officials have estimated at $1,000 the damage done by Cuyahoga Falls High School's 795 seniors at the annual seniors "toilet paper party." They ordered the students Wednesday to clean up the school's grounds.

According to police, more than 100 school windows were broken, obscenities were painted on buildings, and a tree was set afire during Tuesday night's party which began when toilet paper was spread around the lawn, shrubbery and trees on school property.

Firemen were called to the scene after a tree caught fire, apparently after a firecracker went off. Police said students threw rocks at the firemen but no one was injured or arrested. School Principal Robert C. Parsons said he would confiscate the remainder of the senior class treasury fund to help pay for damage.

provements? The local public? The federal government? Passengers? The airlines themselves?

Some airlines have argued that their heavy investment in the big airliners that soon will come into use precludes additional expenditures for improving the airports to serve them.

Considerable support exists for raising funds by taxing users of air facilities, but the industry remains split within its ranks on how these taxes should be applied, and disagreements exist also between government and industry.

Among the suggestions made for raising revenues are head taxes on persons using terminal buildings, increases in the taxes on aviation gasoline, an increase in the tax on airline tickets, a tax on cargoes.

Whether these possibilities are sufficient, or whether the federal government will have to step in more heavily, remains to be seen. But unless the impasse is resolved, some stormy weather lies ahead.

Last year's affair fell far short of being a triumph admits TV Academy President Seymour Berns but he promises that the 1969-70 awards will be better.

Berns is a pipe-smoking television veteran who directed one of the first Emmy winners (a girl ventriloquist with a dummy named Judy Splinters) and later directed Jack Benny and Red Skelton. Now he's in charge of the burgeoning TV enterprises of the entertainment giant National General Corp.

"We're going back to some basic fundamentals with this year's show," Berns reported. "The first principle is that an awards show should be an event. It has the two elements that are television's best attributes: it happens now; and it deals with people's emotions."

"An awards program can't compete with an entertainment show. Any variety show has the facilities and time to do a much better job with entertainment, and any such attempts are bound to be compared unfavorably to the awards telecast."

"That doesn't mean we won't have entertainment elements in the Emmy show. But they will be generic and not offered solely to entertain; they will make sense in the context."

Many critics have failed to make any sense out of the multiplicity of Emmy categories, and Berns admitted that has always been a problem with television.

"Perhaps we could make the awards simpler but that would mean stepping on a lot of toes," he remarked. "This year we tried an innovation by announcing the news and documentary awards early. We did this because news was never more important than it was in 1968. By knowing the winners in advance we could show pieces of the shows and make them more meaningful than if we merely read the list of nominees and the winner."

Not a bad idea from the practical side either; there were 145 nominations in the news-documentary divisions.

After years of being presented as a banquet, the Emmys will be presented Sunday in a theater—the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium from which the Oscars moved to the Los Angeles Music Center—and Carnegie Hall in New York. Berns cited reasons for the switch: a theater gives the show a better look; the audience pays attention better; the dinner following the awards has always been a letdown. This year a champagne reception will follow.

30 YEARS AGO

Services were held for Rev. Thomas C. Harper, 62, who died in University Hospital, Columbus, following abdominal surgery. He was one of the outstanding members of the clergy in Circleville where he had been pastor of the First United Brethren Church for seven years.

Fred Grant of S. Pickaway St. was named county deputy clerk of courts following the resignation of E. W. Weiler.

Forty-six girls of the senior class of Circleville high school were banquet guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club, the 13th consecutive year girl graduates had been so honored.

Three armed youths held up the filling station of Mr. and Mrs. George Adkins at Routes 104 and 316, obtaining $19 in the holdup.

Following his appointment by Gov. John Bricker, Lemuel Weldon prepared to take over the duties of the late Judge Charles Young.

Patients in Berger Hospital on June 2, totaled 25, the largest number listed in the history of the institution.

Numerous industries sent representatives to bid on the machinery and equipment when Sears and Nichols canning factory, (Ladoga) S. Washington St., was offered at public auction but their were no bids received on the real estate.

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Rooney, E. Union St., attended Circleville's graduation ceremonies for their son, Arthur, the ninth Rooney child to be graduated from Circleville high school. He was the youngest of their family of 12.

$216.26 in profits each was distributed to police, firemen and the Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the first annual Policeman's and Firemen's Ball.

A new school district in the county was created by combining Monroe and Muhlenberg districts. The Muhlenberg Twp. school in Darbyville was to continue as a grade school.

A stock barn on the Everett Heacock farm south of Atlanta was leveled by flames caused by lightning.

A 1.3 inch rainfall on June 9 brought new life to farm crops and relief from the 100 degrees temperature recorded.

NEW YORK (AP) — "The greatest gamblers aren't those who go to the track and put down their money," said Sherman Edwards. "The real gamblers are those who bet themselves."

And an eight-year bet of himself by Edwards, composer and lyricist, has paid off with the hit Broadway musical, "1776," based on the American Revolution.

All his life Edwards has been torn between the desire to make music and the desire to teach history.

"But as a kid in the slums of Manhattan it looked more like I'd wind up a hoodlum," he recalled. "I was running with a street gang and getting into trouble."

The starting of piano lessons at the age of 10 in a neighborhood charitable institution saved him from the streets.

The piano helped him earn his way through college and he spent a year and half teaching history in high school.

"Then I chickened out," he said. "The glamor of show business drew me."

A man of great versatility, Sherman worked as an actor in productions of "Pins and Needles" and "My Sister Eileen."

He performed as a jazz pianist for bands led by Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey and Louis Armstrong. He became a successful conductor and arranger for such popular singers as Mindy Carson and Lisa Kirk.

He also composed musical scores for half a dozen Elvis Presley films and wrote some 200 songs, among them such hits as "Wonderful, Wonderful," "Broken-hearted Melody," "See You in September," and "Johnny Get Angry."

Throughout his successful musical career, however, Edwards was bothered by guilt pangs.

"My conscience bothered me because I had turned my back on history," he said. "So in 1961

I finally made up my mind to do something about it.

"I had always been interested in the American Revolution, so I decided I'd write an original historical musical about the adoption of the Declaration of Independence."

"I wanted to base it on my own hero, John Adams, the holler guy who kept things stirred up. Holler guys don't get the reward, but without them things don't get done."

Deciding that the project had to be a total commitment, Sherman dropped all his other activities, living on his savings while he researched the period and wrote the score.

That took several years. It took Edwards several years more to find first an agent, Flora Roberts, and then a producer, Stuart Ostrow.

Sellout At Midway?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
In preparation for his meeting at Midway Island with Richard Nixon, President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam has been pulling out all the stops in his efforts to create a widespread Free Asia sentiment against a peace settlement that would let Communists into any interim South Vietnamese government. Thieu's hasty visits to Taiwan and to Seoul in South Korea were improvised because of his fear that the U.S. plans extra pressure at the Midway meeting to force him to permit the Viet Cong to submit a legislative slate and even a candidate for the Presidency in a special election.

What galvanized Thieu into action as his own emissary to Chiang Kai-shek in Taiwan and to President Chung Hee Park in South Korea was a subterranean tip from Washington that President Nixon has decided he must wind up the war swiftly or face the sort of political repudiation that sent Lyndon Johnson into retirement. Naturally, the Nixon Administration doesn't want to sell the South Vietnamese out. But Thieu has heard mumbles that the White House is willing to take a chance on letting the Communists participate as Communists in an open South Vietnamese election. To arrange for this would require a vast eating of words in Saigon, which Thieu is not disposed to sanction.

Hence the unequivocal speech made by Thieu at the South Korean Military Academy outside of Seoul in which the South Vietnamese leader said, "We must demonstrate to the Communist aggressors that aggression cannot be rewarded, directly or indirectly." Upon his return to Saigon, Thieu then made a statement rejecting the Communist demands as "illogical" and saying that South Vietnam would fight alone rather than accept a coalition government with the Viet Cong. Thieu suspects that Nixon has made up his mind to risk the coming of an interim coalition government in Saigon if he can't get the North Vietnamese to make peace on any other basis. The deal would be to let the South Vietnamese vote to decide their own future. Since the Viet Cong might get a third of the vote in an election that permitted them to function as an openly sanctioned Communist party, the Thieu government might find itself at the mercy of a multi-party, anti-Communist and non-Communist fragmentation.

The Saigon government has never managed to weld Catholics, the Buddhists, and other non-Communist elements into a united front. With the vote split four and five ways, the Viet Cong might succeed in electing a fairly powerful group to serve in an interim government.

Should Thieu stand adamant at Midway against changing the South Vietnam election laws, he must reckon with the possibility of a coup d'etat against him in Saigon. The Diem disaster is all too vivid in his mind.

Thieu's fears are echoed in the councils of Americans of both Left and Right who know the history of previous coalitions with Communists. President George Meany of the AFL-CIO is just as much against a concealed surrender to the Communists in South Vietnam as is Thieu himself. The American Conservative Union, which has been seceding in its support of the Nixon Administration since early February, would be just as horrified as George Meany to see the Viet Cong in a position to take over sensitive posts in a Saigon coalition.

As a reminder to Nixon while he journeys to his mid-Pacific rendezvous with Thieu, the lamentable story of post-war coalitions with the Communists should be blazoned on the record for everybody to see. There was a "national unity" government in Poland in 1945, with the peasant leader Stanislaw Mikolajczak trying to hold his own against the Stalinists. Within a year Mikolajczak was forced to flee to America for his life. Bulgaria, which had a coalition government for a brief moment, quickly went the way of Poland. In Hungary the post-war coalition lasted a bit longer than elsewhere, but with Communist troops in Budapest the local Stalinists finally forced the Small Holder and other parties to the wall. The Czechoslovak experiment with coalition came to the wall. The Czechoslovak the son of the nation's founder, Thomas Masaryk, was pushed from an open window to his death.

As for mainland China, a tentative coalition between Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang and Mao Tse-tung's Communists was worked out by the innocents of our State Department. But when the Maoists inherited the arms seized by Soviet Russia from the Japanese in Manchuria, they didn't even have to go through with the charade of grabbing control of China through "free" elections. Coalition has failed to pay dividends for the Communists only in France and Italy, where aroused majorities quickly rose to kick Communist officials out of office.

Thieu knows all about the history of coalitions, and so does Richard Milhous Nixon. But the student Lef in the U.S., which doesn't care what happens abroad, has evidently forced Nixon to consider giving the Communists a chance to subvert the Thieu government if the Vietnamese can't prevent a coalition on their own.

Try and Stop Me

RENOWNED English punster Sidney Smith, sauntering down a narrow London slum street, espied two women hurrying across the street from the upper windows of a tenement. Smith promptly commented, "It is obvious those wenches never will agree, because they are arguing from two different premises."

In the opinion of Helen Hayes, the supposedly ultra-sophisticated Alec Woolcott was in reality the most glibly celebrated of our time. When Helen's pixie husband, Charlie MacArthur and Ben Hecht were assigned to do the movie script of "Wuthering Heights," Woolcott demanded to see what they were doing to a work he considered his (and the real author, Emily Bronte, be damned). MacArthur and Hecht promptly wrote a scene wherein the book's hero, Heathcliff, came to America to fight Indians and romance dance-hall queens in Red Rock Gulch—and left it where Woolcott was sure to find it. He actually fell for the ridiculous jest—going into a rage and screaming, "You vandals have raped Emily Bronte!"

An unusually limber ghost turned up at the entrance gate of Purgatory but was told "You're in the wrong place, Bud. This ticket entitles you to join the angels in Heaven." "I know," nodded the ghost, "but on earth I was an outfielder on the New York Mets—and I want to make the trip up to Heaven gradually!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Soon the comforting, but blazing sun will be pouring its generous warmth on us. And just as soon many of us will luxuriate in sun bathing which, without moderation, brings on another severe sunburn, the pain of which we may have forgotten about.

It must be remembered that the burn of a winter-sunlamp and the one caused by over exposure to late spring and summer sun rays are real burns that can do severe damage to the skin and the underlying tissues. The burns may vary as first, second and third degree burns and are no different from those caused by fire or electricity. They can be just as painful and incapacitating and it is for this reason that sun tanning must be done slowly.

Many of my readers have asked me about the possibility of developing skin cancer by overexposure to sunlight. There is no universal agreement about this by all doctors. Some believe that skin cancers may be the result of deep penetrating sunburn, especially in fair skinned people with little pigment. It is wise to follow the advice of one's own doctor about this. Moderation implies safety.

Gradual increases in the time of exposure to the sun enhance the fun and the feeling of well being, without the unnecessary pain. Remember that when the sun is reflected off the sand or the sea, even on a mild and cloudy day, the intensity may be great and may cause severe burns.

Protecting creams and lotions can be very effective but they do not keep the skin from burning when it is overexposed. They may give a false sense of safety from the midday sun.

Pernicious anemia is a remarkable disease that has a more remarkable history. When this unusual blood condition was first discovered more than one hundred years ago it was called Addison's anemia and in almost all instances, was fatal. In 1926, Dr. Minot and Dr. Murphy broke through the scientific barriers and found that pernicious anemia was caused by a deficiency of an important factor in the juices of the stomach. Later it was discovered that deficiency of vitamin B12 is one of the most important reasons for this condition.

There are many other elements in this very complex blood condition which strangely seems to occur most frequently in white people past the age of fifty who live in temperate climates.

It is astonishing that today, not a single person with pernicious anemia should be an invalid if the condition is found early and treated intensively. Almost miraculously, liver, once a discarded food, was found to be effective in the control of this disorder. Vitamin B12 given at regular intervals in addition to a highly nourishing diet supplemented with iron and minerals have kept people with pernicious anemia alive and productive. There are few greater scientific achievements than the control of this once fatal disease.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Above the clouds, where today's big commercial aircraft cruise in a tranquil, congestion-free atmosphere, the sun shines all day long, even if dark storms blow over the landscape below.

The situation is analogous to that faced by the nation's airports. They have tremendous potential if they can rise above their problems. If they can't, they and the economies they serve will live under a cloud.

The potential is this: Tremendous increases in air travel are in prospect for the next few years. The Federal Aviation Agency forecasts a doubling of passenger miles by 1975 and a tripling by 1980.

By the end of this year the Boeing 747, capable of seating nearly 400 passengers, will be in operation. In addition, personal and commercial craft are expected to increase by 100,000 before 1980.

Traffic of this sort can bring big economic advantages to an area, for whatever else travelers do they spend money. Whether for business or pleasure, they almost always take along their checkbooks.

But there are problems. Aircraft technology has far exceeded airport development during the past few years. The big jets are advanced, the airports are caught in a web of human, technological and financial problems.

Among them: Suitable sites are difficult to find; the cry of suburbanites against airport noise is becoming shrill as a jet; the problem of ground transportation has not been solved; money for improvements is lacking.

Congestion at airports, complicated by a lack of controllers, was pointed up this week by federal limitations placed on flights into and out of airports serving Chicago, Washington and New York metropolitan areas.

Delays already are costing the airline industry heavily. The cost of overtime, extra crews, fuel and lost time is estimated by the industry to cost more than $100 million a year.

This figure doesn't include losses to regional economies resulting from poor service, and these losses can be enormous. Corporations, for example, are reluctant to establish branches in areas not easily accessible.

Perhaps the biggest problem of all is to finance the improvements needed in terminal facilities and runways, and in some areas, to relocate airports in less congested sites.

Who should pay for these improvements? The local public? The federal government? Passengers? The airlines themselves?

Some airlines have argued that their heavy investment in the big airliners that soon will come into use precludes additional expenditures for improving the airports to serve them.

Considerable support exists for raising funds by taxing users of air facilities, but the industry remains split within its ranks on how these taxes should be applied, and disagreements exist also between government and industry. Among the suggestions made for raising revenues are head taxes on persons using terminal buildings, increases in the taxes on aviation gasoline, an increase in the tax on airline tickets, a tax on cargoes.

Whether these possibilities are sufficient, or whether the federal government will have to step in more heavily, remains to be seen. But unless the impasse is resolved, some stormy weather lies ahead.

Pressure Put On Cities To Cough Up Pension Cash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rep. Allen J. Bartunek of Cleveland Heights is using a forceful argument in his attempt to get cities to cough up money owed the police and firemen's pension fund.

A study group he headed has proposed the state withhold other funds for cities that are behind in fund payments. At the same time, he is searching for other revenues to help the cities pay up.

Bartunek said the widow of a policeman or fireman, with three children, can draw $195 a month.

In Cuyahoga County, he said, that's $80 less than a woman with children can draw from the welfare department.

Newsman went to court Monday in order to break down an Ohio Penitentiary rule and be allowed to accompany a House committee on a tour of the pen.

While waiting for word on the court's ruling, one newsman remarked:

"Just think, all those guys petitioning to get out and here we are petitioning to get in."

And the newsmen were more successful than most of the insiders wanting out. The court permitted two reporters to make the trip.

When everything was going great for Gov. Rhodes many newsmen referred to his chief aide, John McElroy, as the "real governor."

Now that the political road is more bumpy, Rhodes has to walk it alone.

McElroy was justly given credit for a lot of the governor's programs but when things turned sour it wasn't him that was blamed.

McElroy is the first to admit he recommended all of the recent decisions that put Rhodes in political hot water.

That included a commutation for the sentence of mobster Thomas "Yonnie" Licavoli and a permissive county income tax for education.

Richard Krabach, the former state finance director, apparently has had little trouble in identifying himself with Cincinnati in his new role as city manager.

He appeared before the House State Government Committee Tuesday night in favor of a bill to permit Sunday liquor sales.

He repeatedly referred to Cincinnati as "my city" and "my people."

Krabach lived in his hometown of Lima before coming to Columbus, where he lived in Worthington.

Brickmasons Set Vote On Contract

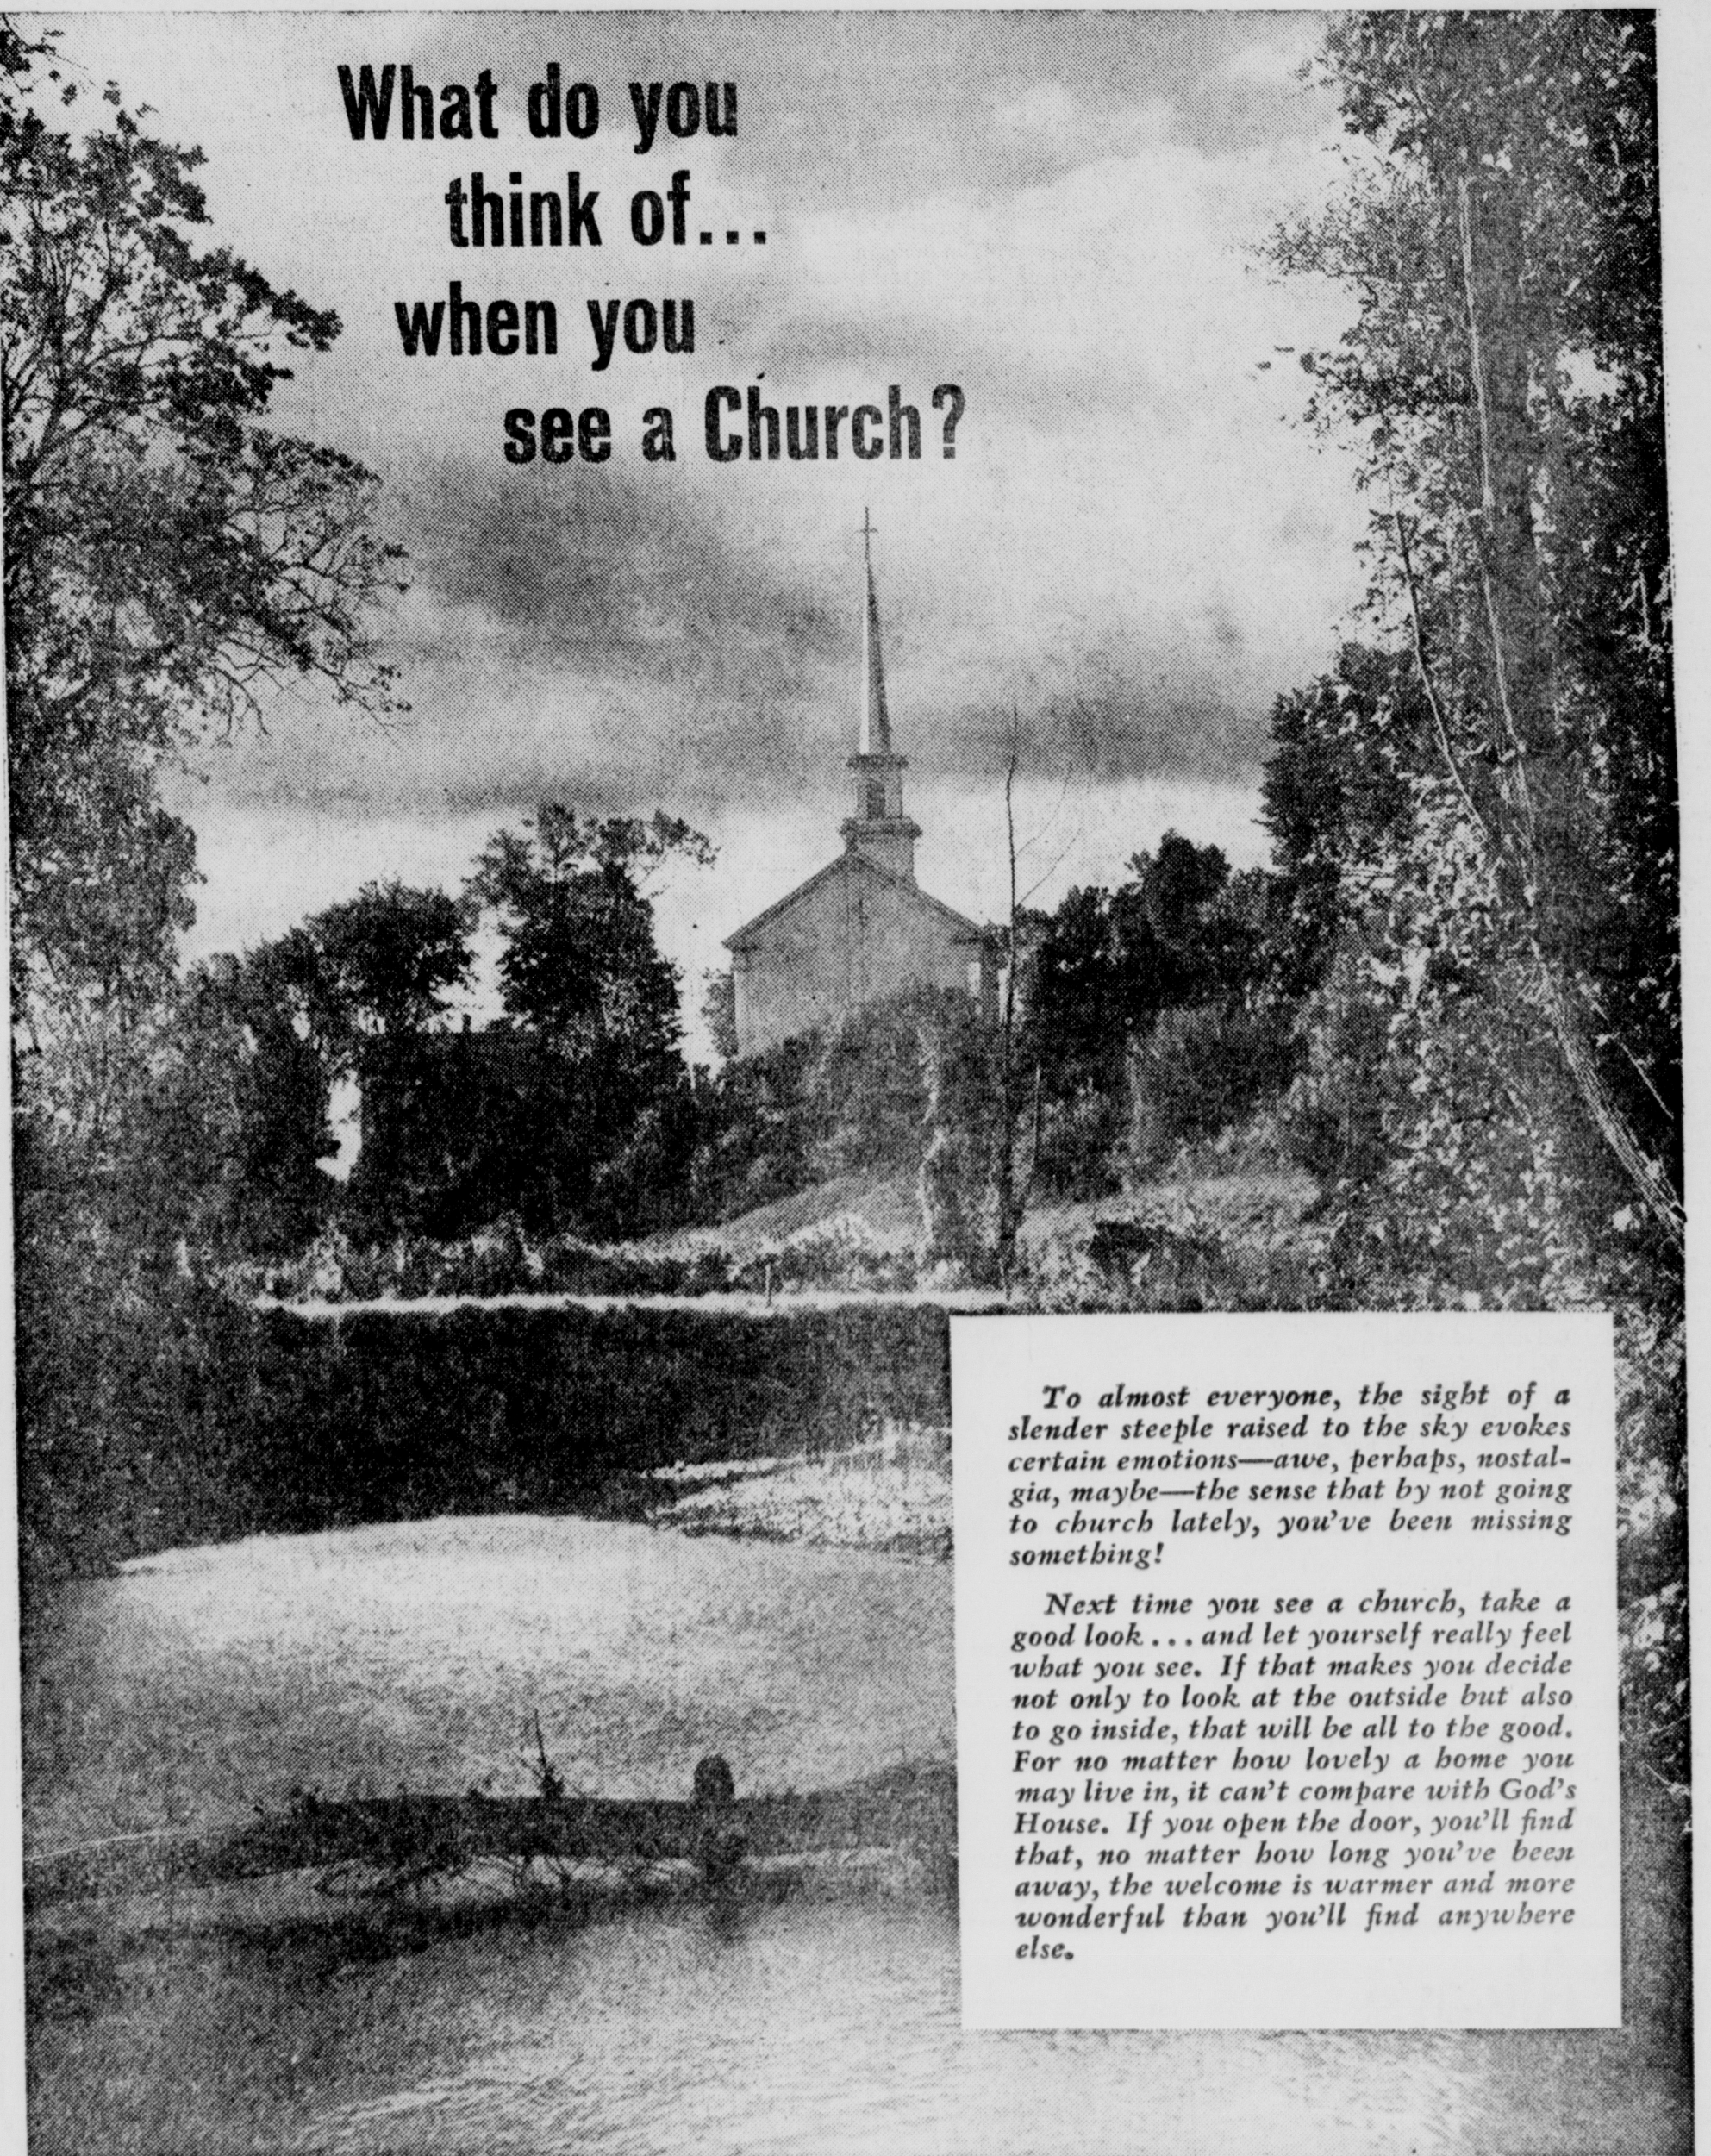

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Members of a striking brickmasons union will vote tonight on whether to accept a contract that offers a $2.60 per hour increase over the next two years.

Their strike of more than one month has stopped bricklaying on more than $30 million worth of work in Scioto and Adams counties.

The major interruption is at the $25 million Ohio Penitentiary under construction near Lucasville in Scioto County.

Brickmasons now earn $5.40 per hour.

What do you think of... when you see a Church?

To almost everyone, the sight of a slender steeple raised to the sky evokes certain emotions—awe, perhaps, nostalgia, maybe—the sense that by not going to church lately, you've been missing something!

Next time you see a church, take a good look... and let yourself really feel what you see. If that makes you decide not only to look at the outside but also to go inside, that will be all to the good. For no matter how lovely a home you may live in, it can't compare with God's House. If you open the door, you'll find that, no matter how long you've been away, the welcome is warmer and more wonderful than you'll find anywhere else.

Pressure Put On Cities To Cough Up Pension Cash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rep. Allen J. Bartunek of Cleveland Heights is using a forceful argument in his attempt to get cities to cough up money owed the police and firemen's pension fund.

A study group he headed has proposed the state withhold other funds for cities that are behind in fund payments. At the same time, he is searching for other revenues to help the cities pay up.

Bartunek said the widow of a policeman or fireman, with three children, can draw $195 a month.

In Cuyahoga County, he said, that's $80 less than a woman with children can draw from the welfare department.

Newsman went to court Monday in order to break down an Ohio Penitentiary rule and be allowed to accompany a House committee on a tour of the pen. While waiting for word on the court's ruling, one newsman remarked:

"Just think, all those guys petitioning to get out and here we are petitioning to get in."

And the newsmen were more successful than most of the insiders wanting out. The court permitted two reporters to make the trip.

When everything was going great for Gov. Rhodes many newsmen referred to his chief aide, John McElroy, as the "real governor."

Now that the political road is more bumpy, Rhodes has to walk it alone.

McElroy was justly given credit for a lot of the governor's programs but when things turned sour it wasn't him that was blamed.

McElroy is the first to admit he recommended all of the recent decisions that put Rhodes in political hot water.

That included a commutation for the sentence of mobster Thomas "Yonnie" Licavoli and a permissive county income tax for education.

Richard Krabach, the former state finance director, apparently has had little trouble in identifying himself with Cincinnati in his new role as city manager.

He appeared before the House State Government Committee Tuesday night in favor of a bill to permit Sunday liquor sales. He repeatedly referred to Cincinnati as "my city" and "my people."

Krabach lived in his hometown of Lima before coming to Columbus, where he lived in Worthington.

Brickmasons Set Vote On Contract

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Members of a striking brickmasons union will vote tonight on whether to accept a contract that offers a $2.60 per hour increase over the next two years.

Their strike of more than one month has stopped bricklaying on more than $30 million worth of work in Scioto and Adams counties.

The major interruption is at the $25 million Ohio Penitentiary under construction near Lucasville in Scioto County.

Brickmasons now earn $5.40 per hour.

To almost everyone, the sight of a slender steeple raised to the sky evokes certain emotions—awe, perhaps, nostalgia, maybe—the sense that by not going to church lately, you've been missing something!

Next time you see a church, take a good look... and let yourself really feel what you see. If that makes you decide not only to look at the outside but also to go inside, that will be all to the good. For no matter how lovely a home you may live in, it can't compare with God's House. If you open the door, you'll find that, no matter how long you've been away, the welcome is warmer and more wonderful than you'll find anywhere else.

MRS. EDWARD NEIL WRIGHT

Nuptial vows were pledged by Miss June Claire Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eugene Goodwin of Thibodaux, La., and Sgt. Edward Neil Wright, stationed with the United States Air Force at Keesler AFB, Biloxi. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville V. De Long of 465 Stella Ave., Circleville.

Father Neil Songy was celebrant of the nuptial Mass and performed the dual-ring ceremony on Saturday, April 26 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Thibodaux.

Urn of white gladiolus, chrysanthemums and green foliage adorned the altars for the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of magnolia white silk organza and peau d'ange lace. The empire A-line silhouette was enhanced with lace appliques on the high bodice as well as the long tapered sleeves. Attached at the shoulders was a cathedral train of lined silk organza, completely bordered with the peau d'ange lace.

The bride's long mantilla veil of silk illusion and lace was held in place by a small pillbox trimmed with lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses centered with an orchid.

The feminine members of the wedding party included Mrs. James Johnston of New Orleans as her sister's matron of honor; Miss Brenda DeLong of Circleville, sister of the groom; Mrs. James Goodwin, of Dallas, sister-in-law of the bride; and Miss Karen Tregre, of Thibodaux, who served as the bridesmaid.

They were dressed in long daffodil yellow Alaskine silk gowns trimmed with guipure lace featuring empire bodices detailed with rolled collars. They wore headpieces of English ivy and yellow ribbon and carried nosegays of cymbidium orchids.

Before leaving the sanctuary the couple knelt at the statue of the Blessed Mother where the bride placed a bouquet of white flowers.

The American Legion Home was the setting for the reception hosted by the parents of the bride. Mrs. Goodwin, received in a mint green linen suit complemented with bone accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The groom's mother, assisted in receiving in a blue crepe dress featuring a lace yolk and lace sleeves. Her accessories were bone colored and at her shoulder was a similar orchid corsage.

Trimmed with yellow roses, the wedding cake was topped with replicas of the bride and groom as well as a Christogram.

Mrs. Michael Ramsey presided at the bride's register book and serving as members of the houseparty were Miss Louise Badeaux, Mrs. Lindsay Bergeron, Miss Flo Simoneaud, Miss Grace Folse and Mrs. Eddie Hebert Jr.

When the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec, Canada the bride was wearing a powder blue coat dress worn with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

They are now residing at 304 Second Street in Gulfport, Miss. A graduate of Mount Carmel Academy the bride received her R. N. degree from Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in New Orleans.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of magnolia white silk organza and peau d'ange lace. The empire A-line silhouette was enhanced with lace appliques on the high bodice as well as the long tapered sleeves. Attached at the shoulders was a cathedral train of lined silk organza, completely bordered with the peau d'ange lace.

The bride's long mantilla veil of silk illusion and lace was held in place by a small pillbox trimmed with lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses centered with an orchid.

The feminine members of the wedding party included Mrs. James Johnston of New Orleans as her sister's matron of honor; Miss Brenda DeLong of Circleville, sister of the groom; Mrs. James Goodwin, of Dallas, sister-in-law of the bride; and Miss Karen Tregre, of Thibodaux, who served as the bridesmaids.

They were dressed in long daffodil yellow Alaskine silk gowns trimmed with guipure lace featuring empire bodices detailed with rolled collars. They wore headpieces of English ivy and yellow ribbon and carried nosegays of cymbidium orchids.

Little Miss Kimberly Johnston, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a floor length gown of white bonded crepe and lace. She carried a basket of cymbidium orchids.

Minireligions Keep Cropping Up

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In a world of minicars, miniskirts and minirebellions, the environment today also is producing an assortment of minireligions.
That's the term which a New York publisher applies to various devotional divergencies now showing up in American culture. Church scholars and sociologists also have cited an upsurge of odd new strains of religiosity.
It's a reaction against scientific rationalism and a "search for nonrational ways of coping," says Dr. Holmes Welch, research associate of the Center for the Study of World Religions at Harvard University.
Referring to the variety of curious religious-like manifestations now current, which depart from conventional faiths, Melvin L. Arnold, president of Harper and Row, told a recent meeting of religious publishers: "Minireligions may be exerting more influence today than traditional religions. Perhaps we may have been focusing too narrowly up to now in assuming religion meant only the standardized, traditional kinds."
He noted the rising popularity of astrology, spiritual mediums, the widespread cult of escapism in drugs, the cult of violence, and the heavily accented cult of sex.
"We are inundated and drowning in what the Greeks called the religion of Eros," he said of the contemporary sex obsession.
The Rev. Andrew M. Greeley, a Catholic sociologist of the University of Chicago, says the modern generation, in revolt against scientism, is so intrigued by the sacred that it is "on the way to becoming superstitious."
"The popularity of witchcraft and astrology, contemplation and mysticism, vegetarian diets and the tarot cards shows how obsessed with the sacred some of the younger generation really is," he writes. A church historian, the Rev. Dr. Martin E. Marty, of the University of Chicago Divinity, also ticks off a list of some of the proliferating cults in "The world of private religious expression," saying:

"America, 1969, has millions of advocates, devotees or half-believers in astrology, the cabala, drugs, ESP, fortune-telling horoscopes, I Ching, Karma, LSD, mysticism, nirvana, occultisms, peyote, quietism, reality therapy, seances, T-groupism, Upanishads, the void, witchcraft, xylomancy, yoga and Zen."
In addition, there are "126 nationalisms, the religions of communism and free worldism, of Black Power, of left and right," Dr. Marty told the meeting of the Religious Publishers Group of the American Book Publishing Council.
There also are the spreading

"charismatic" groups, stressing glossolalia, or speaking with tongues, the Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship, investigating parapsychological phenomena, the crowded Soka Gakkai meditation centers on the West Coast.
Back a few years ago, Dr. Marty noted, some theologians were telling about the world moving into a secular era of "postreligious man and postreligious culture," but instead, he said there are signs of a "new religiousness."
"On the short range, the secular trend certainly continues," he said, but "on the long-range view, ominous and promising new quasireligious, mythical and symbolic forces are to be expected."

He said this includes the "nut groups and fadists," but he added: "The human story seems to be too complex, too passionate to be sustained without some sort of 'religious' meaning quest."
As for the traditional Judeo-Christian heritage, he said: "Whatever is coming will imply a fusion of elements in the Jewish and Christian traditions with a new style of consciousness, sensibility and social organization. Something institutional will survive, but it will be transformed."

Columbus Teachers Reject Pay Offer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus teachers have rejected pay hikes that would average $900 a year. They voted in an early morning session today to seek the highest starting salaries in the state.
Some 2,500 teachers in the mass meeting at the state fairgrounds rejected the proposal submitted by a negotiating advisory panel. In turning it down, it brought a step closer to arbitration the three-month-long contract negotiations between the school board and the Columbus Education Association.

Centenarians Say Parents Too Soft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two centenarians, who were among nine of the state's most elderly citizens honored here Thursday, said a breakdown in parental guidance is responsible for the behavior of today's youth.
"Parents don't raise them the way they used to," said the Rev. Mary E. Silver of Springfield, who claims to be 113 years old.
"Children are being raised differently," agreed Dr. William Lehmann of Fremont, who was 100 in December.
The Rev. Silver, a former slave from Reedsville, N. C., who has been preaching in Springfield since 1900, said youth disturbances are caused by "taking the bible out of the schools."

Dr. Lehmann, oldest minister of the American Lutheran Church who retired two years ago after preaching for 80 years, said children "should remember that they have a long heritage of a way of life which was good."
The centenarians were honored as the Governor's Conference on Aging wound up a two-day program. Gov. James A. Rhodes presented them with certificates recognizing their long years.
The other centenarians present were Samuel Arnold, 104, Columbus; Albert H. Bumphrey, 101, Kent; Charles Coleman, 100, Martins Ferry; David W.

Donley, 100, Columbus; Anna Ginstic, 102, Dayton; Charles Hindall, 101, Arlington, Hancock County, and Clara Stafford, 100, Akron.

RFK Mass Set Tonight At Arlington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some of Robert F. Kennedy's special interests—the young, the poor, gun control, sports—are reflected in memorial services today marking the first anniversary of his death.
A simple folk Mass at the gravesite in Arlington National Cemetery will be held at 8 p.m.
A choral group of 70 high school students will sing folk songs to guitar accompaniment, at the request of Ethel Kennedy, the New York senator's widow.
Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York will celebrate the Mass at Kennedy's grave, marked only by a white cross.
About 1,000 announcements of the service have been sent out by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the only surviving brother. The expected crowds will fill an area that holds the grave of President John F. Kennedy, yards from his brother's grave.
Another evening service will be held at 8th and H Streets in Washington, part of the predominantly Negro neighborhood that was scarred by disorders after the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in April, 1968.

Award Is Upheld In Elevator Jig

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York State Court of Appeals upheld Wednesday a $912 workmen's compensation award to a New York City man who broke his leg when he did a jig in a moving elevator.

In seeking the compensation from his employer, Harcourt, Brace and World of New York City, Robert Bletter had told the state Compensation Board that he performed the dance to demonstrate good spirits because his job as associate editor was going well.

The board ruled the dance, on the employers' premises while Bletter was returning to work from lunch, was not an unreasonable activity in view of his feelings. The state's highest court agreed in a 4-2 decision.

Judge Charged With 'Malice'

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Avon Lake Municipal Judge Robert Jensen has been charged with "capricious and malicious action" in a suit filed in Lorain County Common Pleas Court by an official of the State Fish Co.

Eugene Kulber of Shaker Heights asked for $100,000 in damages from Jensen in the suit filed Wednesday. Jensen filed a bench warrant against Kulber last month which Kulber said caused him embarrassment before office personnel.

The State Fish Co. was charged early last month by a state game warden with violation of a state regulation. Jensen issued a bench warrant against Kulber May 13 after attempts to get a representative of the firm to appear in Avon Lake Court.

Dear Abby:

Youth Revolt Ancient History

DEAR ABBY: A great deal has happened to our country lately, and the youth is blamed. We've been called everything from "flower children" to hippies. Everywhere you hear about "protesters" and draft dodgers, and adults are suspicious of any teen-ager with long hair.

I recently came across this quote from a worried adult: "What is this world coming to? What will the world be like when the younger generation takes over? Will it be destroyed by individualism and lack of leadership?" (Signed Socrates, 469 B. C.)"

Sincerely yours,

LINDA IN CEDAR RAPIDS
DEAR LINDA: And look what happened to Socrates' "World" — which was Greece! And they didn't regain stature again until Melina Mercouri made "Never

A weak cool front will move into northern Ohio this afternoon and a few thundershowers may develop, but no widespread showers appear likely.

Ruling Is Expected On Hodges Motion
BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—A ruling is expected Monday on a change of venue request by attorneys for Mark D. Hodges, charged with first-degree murder in the October 1967 slaying of Sylvania school secretary Karen Kern.

Hodges attorneys, contended Thursday in Wood County Common Pleas Court that adverse publicity of the case hindered their client's chances of getting a fair trial here.

DER ABBY: As the mother of a 22-year-old daughter, I would like to have some up-to-date information on present day dating customs.

My daughter has been dating a young man for several months. He's a college graduate and has a very good job. He invited her to go skiing, and then informed her that she would have to pay for her own lift fee. She thought this was rather odd, but she paid her own fee.

Then on subsequent dates he told her she should pay her own way.

She told him she thought he was being "cheap." He said she was "ignorant." And they quarreled.

Is the young man correct? Is it the custom now for girls to pay their own way when asked for a date?

PERPLEXED
DEAR PERPLEXED: The gentleman treats the lady, unless they have an "understanding" beforehand, and are saving for their mutual benefit. A man who would ask a girl for a date and then suggest she pay her own way is not gentleman. And a girl to put up with it must be very hungry for company.

DEAR ABBY: Your are a doll. You made me see the light, even tho it took 6 years to register.

I am 40 years old and divorced. I am tall and slim and have been told that I am "attractive." I have many talents and a good job, but for some unknown reason I became involved with a married man. He was "misunderstood, unloved," ect. and said that they were together only because of the children, but if it took him until he was 65 we would be together. You know the routine. I believed him.

Naturally we couldn't be seen together, so I entertained him in my home. He was jealous and possessive, and never knew until the last minute if we could be together, so I wasn't able to go anywhere.

Finally I saw something in your column that hit me right between the eyes. ("He'll never marry you. Why should he? He's getting the whole show for the price of the amusement tax.")

I looked at myself in the mirror, and said, "This is it—no more wasting years." I called him and told him bluntly not to bother me anymore. He got the message.

Now I can rest at night. Thank you!

NO NAME, PLEASE
CONFIDENTIAL TO YOUNG PHILOSOPHER: How's this: "The grand essentials to happiness in this life are: (1) Something to do. (2) Someone to love. (3) Something to look forward to."

College Paper Prints Apology
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A special edition of the Caudron, Cleveland State University's student newspaper, is being published today with an apology for an issue published two days ago which black students found objectionable.

At least 2,000 copies of the earlier edition were reported confiscated and burned by a group of black students. They were offended by a crudely drawn editorial cartoon concerning, among other things, a series of demands on black studies.

Today's one-page broadside authorized by the student publications board censures student editor Bill Murmann and also includes an apology written by Murmann.

Ohio Gets Grant
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal highway administration has awarded Ohio $100,000 for a comprehensive integrated traffic record system, according to U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe's Washington office.

Storms Rake Southeastern United States
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair and pleasant June weather warmed a large part of the nation today, marred by only a limited scattering of thundershowers.

Severe thunderstorms raked the Southeast Thursday night and dumped heavy rain into much of Florida. Three inches swamped Jacksonville. Downpours of an inch or more ranged over the length of the state and northward into Georgia.

Tornadoes dipped out of the clouds briefly at Orlando and Tampa during the evening. One twister smashed a mobile home in the community of Baileyville, but no one was injured.

Showers dampened scattered sections of the East in the pre-dawn hours.

Clear skies dominated in a majority of the states, and overnight temperatures in the 60s and 70s were widespread throughout the midcontinent.

Above-normal warmth prevailed without letup over the interior of the West and pushed summery temperatures eastward onto the Plains. Scottsbluff, Neb., sizzled up to a high of 98 Thursday to break a record of 30 years' standing.

Readings before dawn ranged from 45 at International Falls, Minn., to 91 at Needles, Calif.

Ohio Firm Named In California Suit
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state filed a Superior Court lawsuit Thursday seeking to restrain an Akron, Ohio, firm from selling its "Defender of Women" device in California.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said the cartridge device, manufactured by Kristee Products, is designed to spray a peppery liquid and constitutes an illegal tear gas device under California law.

Ergot, a drug which can cause psychotic disorder, is the product of a fungus disease of grasses, especially rye.

Chillicothe Correction Chief Has Revolutionary Program

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Approval of transistor radios for inmates at Chillicothe Correctional Institution was the start— and now more improvements have been put into practice by the man who will round out his first year as superintendent there July 15.

The newest director at Chillicothe, William D. Salisbury, took over after the former chief, M. J. Koloski began a brief term as Ohio Penitentiary prison warden.

Salisbury has maintained many of the policies begun by Koloski, and has established many of his own — the transistor radios as his first.

Since then he has permitted a second friend on all inmate's week visits, free letters each week, additional private quarters and what some inmates call "an interest in the inmate body."

He also has had a part in bringing three new industries to the institution — the print shop, mattress factory and a hydraulics facility. A counseling clinic has been established with three men devoting full time to inmate problems. An apprenticeship program has been started.

The new superintendent also has given approval of Little League baseball to be played on a regularly scheduled basis at the institute.

And in one of his latest moves, Salisbury helped establish the inmate's chapter of the Jaycees, giving a new form of activity to the younger men.

Kidnaping was coined as a word in the late 17th century when there was a practice of stealing children and shipping them to servitude on plantations in the American colonies.

Dear Abby:

Youth Revolt Ancient History

DEAR ABBY: A great deal has happened to our country lately, and the youth is blamed. We've been called everything from "flower children" to hippies. Everywhere you hear about "protesters" and draft dodgers, and adults are suspicious of any teen-ager with long hair.

I recently came across this quote from a worried adult: "What is this world coming to? What will the world be like when the younger generation takes over? Will it be destroyed by individualism and lack of leadership?" (Signed Socrates, 469 B. C.)"

Sincerely yours,

Ruling Is Expected On Hodges Motion
BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — A ruling is expected Monday on a change of venue request by attorneys for Mark D. Hodges, charged with first-degree murder in the October 1967 slaying of Sylvania school secretary Karen Kern.

College Paper Prints Apology
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A special edition of the Caudron, Cleveland State University's student newspaper, is being published today with an apology for an issue published two days ago which black students found objectionable.

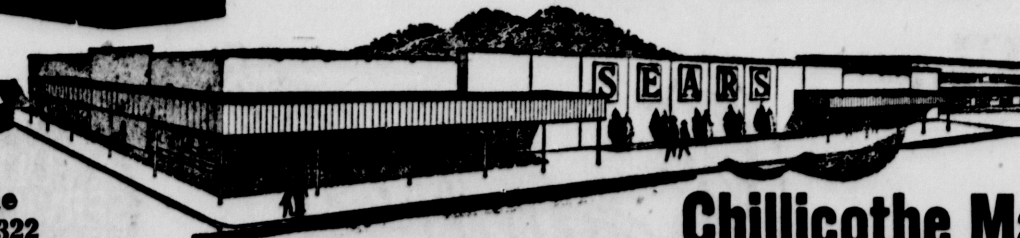

At least 2,000 copies of the earlier edition were reported confiscated and burned by a group of black students. They were offended by a crudely drawn editorial cartoon concerning, among other things, a series of demands on black studies.

Today's one-page broadside authorized by the student publications board censures student editor Bill Murrman and also includes an apology written by Murrman.

Storms Rake Southeastern United States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant June weather warmed a large part of the nation today, marred by only a limited scattering of thundershowers.

Severe thunderstorms raked the Southeast Thursday night and dumped heavy rain into much of Florida. Three inches swamped Jacksonville. Downpours of an inch or more ranged over the length of the state and northward into Georgia.

Tornadoes dipped out of the clouds briefly at Orlando and Tampa during the evening. One twister smashed a mobile home in the community of Baileyville, but no one was injured.

Showers dampened scattered sections of the East in the pre-dawn hours.

Clear skies dominated in a majority of the states, and overnight temperatures in the 60s and 70s were widespread throughout the midcontinent.

Above-normal warmth prevailed without letup over the interior of the West and pushed summery temperatures eastward onto the Plains. Scottsbluff, Neb., sizzled up to a high of 98 Thursday to break a record of 30 years' standing.

Readings before dawn ranged from 45 at International Falls, Minn., to 91 at Needles, Calif.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said the cartridge device, manufactured by Kristee Products, is designed to spray a peppery liquid and constitutes an illegal tear gas device under California law.

Ergot, a drug which can cause psychotic disorder, is the product of a fungus disease of grasses, especially rye.

Chillicothe Correction Chief Has Revolutionary Program

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Approval of transistor radios for inmates at Chillicothe Correctional Institution was the start, and now more improvements have been put into practice by the man who will round out his first year as superintendent there July 15.

The newest director at Chillicothe, William D. Salisbury, took over after the former chief, M. J. Koloski began a brief term as Ohio Penitentiary prison warden.

Salisbury has maintained many of the policies begun by Koloski, and has established many of his own — the transistor radios as his first.

Since then he has permitted a second friend on all inmate's week visits, free letters each week, additional private quarters and what some inmates call "an interest in the inmate body."

He also has had a part in bringing three new industries to the institution — the print shop, mattress factory and a hydraulics facility. A counseling clinic has been established with three men devoting full time to inmate problems. An apprenticeship program has been started.

The new superintendent also has given approval of Little League baseball to be played on a regularly scheduled basis at the institute.

And in one of his latest moves, Salisbury helped establish the inmate's chapter of the Jaycees, giving a new form of activity to the younger men.

Kidnaping was coined as a word in the late 17th century when there was a practice of stealing children and shipping them to servitude on plantations in the American colonies.

Astros Blast Cards, 11-6

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Some guys have one for the road, but Joe Morgan had so many he doesn't want to leave. The little second baseman for the Houston Astros belted three singles and a homer, starting four rallies that sent Houston to an 11-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night. But his 4-for-4 night only left him unhappy.

"I needed those hits. But I knew it... soon as I get hot, I have to leave for the Army. Tomorrow (Friday) is my last game before reporting," he said of his upcoming two weeks in the military reserve.

The rest of the major league teams took the day off, except for exhibition games in which Atlanta beat its Richmond farm club 8-7, Pittsburgh dropped Kansas City 4-2 and Minnesota edged its Denver farm team 4-3 and Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League upended Montreal 5-3.

Morgan, once one of the brightest prospects in the National League before injuries slowed him in two of his four seasons in the majors, had been having his troubles at the plate and entered the game hitting only .232.

"I've been too anxious at the plate," he said after raising his mark to .249 and scoring four runs, giving him 38 for the year.

Waiting for his pitch against the Cardinals, he singled in the first inning to start a two-run burst, kicked off a three-run rally in the fifth with another single, opened a two-run sixth with his eighth home run and then completed his night with a single that began a clinching four-run eighth.

Now his problem is to keep his hot bat during his two-week military stint and then avoid the injuries that wrecked him for six weeks in 1965 and for four months last season. Thus far, he has been in all of Houston's 54 games.

The 5-foot-7, 150-pound dynamo, turned down by several teams because he was so small, still managed to hit .285 in 1966 and .250 in 1968, although he got into only 10 games last year. In his two full years, he hit .271 with 100 runs scored as a rookie in 1965 and managed a .275 mark in 1967.

Morgan's safeties—he walked his other trip to the plate—helped the Astros end a four-game losing streak and dropped the disappointing Cardinals 11 games out of first place in the East Division.

Jim Wynn, batting behind Morgan, reached base four times on two hits and two walks and also scored four times as Denis Menke drove in three runs and Norm Miller, John Edwards and Jesus Alou each knocked in two in the 13-hit assault against five pitchers.

But the Astros, who came from behind a 4-2 deficit to win, needed six pitchers to stop the Cardinals as Tim McCarver had two RBI and Mike Shannon hit a solo homer.

Tommie Aaron hit two solo homers, Bob Tillman added a two-run shot and Sonny Jackson hit one with two on in Atlanta's victory.

Willie Stargell broke a 1-1 tie with a run-scoring double in the third inning as Pittsburgh took the lead to stay against the Royals.

Minnesota made up a 2-0 deficit and then broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth on Bob Allison's two-out, run-scoring double.

Hail Overcall As Harness Pacer Of '69

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Overcall was hailed by harness racing fans today as the best pacer of 1969.

The 6-year-old son of Cape-town-Overbid by Hal Dale silenced those who said he couldn't go 1 1/2 miles by easily winning the $50,000 International Pace for the United States at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night and setting a world record for the distance of 3:02 3/5.

"I was a bit worried before the race," admitted driver Del Insko afterwards, "but once I got to the front after 1/4 miles, I knew it was all over."

A turnout of 23,068 marveled as Overcall, owned by Mrs. Helen Buck of Far Hills, N.J., zipped the last quarter-mile in 29 3/5 seconds to wipe out the old record of 3:03 set by Tarquinus at Roosevelt Raceway, in 1964. He finished 8 lengths ahead of Blaze Pick of Canada.

It was the easiest kind of victory for Overcall, who now has won six in a row, including 5-for-5 this season. He put in just one burst, rushing up from fifth place after 1/4 miles, and drawing out without need of urging in the stretch.

"I never touched him at any time with the whip," Insko said. "Now I'm certain something was bothering him when he finished sixth at 1 1/2 miles last fall at Roosevelt. I felt certain he would break the record and get that $5,000 bonus."

Insko referred to the bonus the track management put up for a world record. Insko got $2,500 and Mrs. Buck the other half. While it didn't count in Overcall's official earnings, the magnificent pacer picked up $25,000 and increased his career earnings to $483,298.

Top Entrants Ready For Belmont

NEW YORK (AP)—The test of the Champion is what they call it. Now it's up to Majestic Prince to pass it.

The test is Saturday's 101st running of the 1 1/2-mile Belmont Stakes, and front-and-center will be the Prince, the penny-colored colt who is admired by horsemen and loved by letter-writing little girls.

Frank McMahon's unbeaten colt has the roses and the Black-Eyed Susans and now he's shooting for the Carnations.

If he gets them, he'll be racing's ninth Triple Crown champion and the first to win the Kentucky Derby, Preakness Stakes and Belmont since Citation in 1948.

Out to stop him will be five other 3-year-olds—Rokeby Stable's tough little Arts and Letters, runnerup in the Derby and Preakness; Claiborne Farm's stretch-running Dike, third in the Derby; Osmer S. Deming's Rooney's Shield; George Wallace's Prime Fool and King Ranch's Distray.

Each will carry 126 pounds. They'll leave the gate in the $125,000-added, classic at 5:37 p.m., EDT. The race will be televised from 5 p.m.-6 p.m. by CBS.

"The Belmont is a great race because it's one with few excuses," said Eddie Arcaro, the former jockey great who rode six Belmont winners.

"The fields are generally small and select, and the distance offers every chance for the horses to relax and run true."

Belmont's moment of truth was one of defeat for the four other colts who have had a shot at the Triple Crown since 1948. They were Tim Tam, 1968; Carry Back, 1961; Northern Dancer, 1964, and Kauai King, 1968.

Majestic Prince, Arts and Letters and Rooney's Shield put in their final works Thursday.

The Prince went a half-mile in 45 4/5 breezing and pulled up five furlongs in 59 flat. "He'll be at his best in the Belmont," said trainer Johnny Longden.

Arts and Letters zipped a half in 45 1/5, was caught easing up five furlongs in 57 3/5 and galloped out six furlongs in 1:11. "Arts and Letters is better now than he was before the Metropolitan (which he won last Friday)," said trainer Elliott Burch.

Rooney's Shield worked six furlongs in 1:12 2/5, and trainer

Nick Combest said the move settled the issue of the colt's starting in the Belmont.

Longden was in the saddle for Majestic Prince's prep, Saturday, the nine-race winner will be ridden by Bill Hartack.

Other jockey assignments are Arts and Letters, Braulio Baeza; Dike, Eddie Belmonte; Rooney's Shield, Larry Adams; Distray, John Rotz, and Prime Fool, Jorge Velasquez.

Majestic Prince is the early 6-5 favorite, with Arts and Letters rated 8-5 and Dike 2-1. Rooney's Shield and Distray each are 20-1 and Prime Fool 30-1.

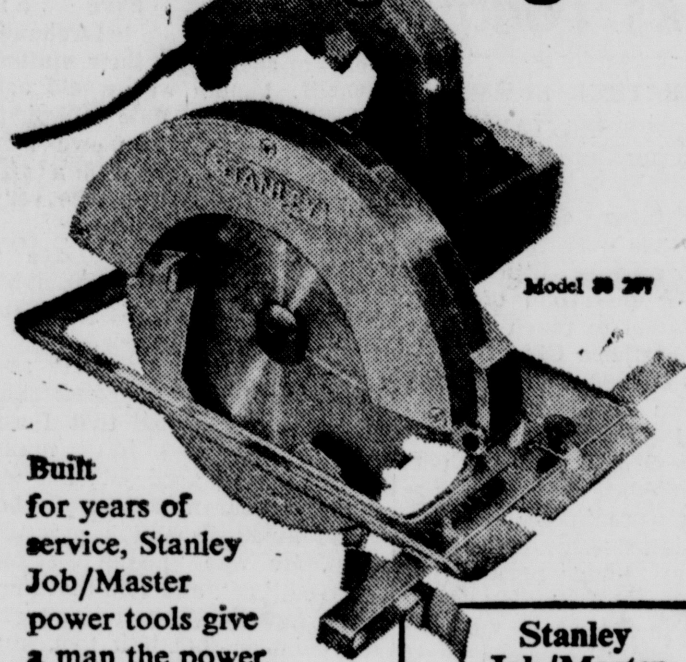

In other Saturday features, Greengrass Greene, who ran sixth in the Preakness after leading the eight-horse field for most of the first mile, is a favorite among 11 probable starters in the $25,000-added Kent Stakes, a mile test on the grass for 3-year-olds at Delaware Park.

Fleet Allied, who ran seventh in the eight-horse field in the Kentucky Derby, is among nine probable starters in the $25,000-added Chicagoan Handicap, a seven-furlong test for 3-year-olds. Fleet Allied will carry 116 pounds and Mrs. Dorothy C. Rigney's Fast Hilarious, another favorite, has been assigned 127.

At Hollywood Park, eight probable starters are listed for the $50,000-added Inglewood Handicap, a 1 1/4 mile test for 3-year-olds and up. Among the favorites are Gamely, 117, and Rising Market, high at 120. Gamely nosed out Rising Market in this race last year.

"I needed those hits. But I knew it... soon as I get hot, I have to leave for the Army. Tomorrow (Friday) is my last game before reporting," he said of his upcoming two weeks in the military reserve.

The rest of the major league teams took the day off, except for exhibition games in which Atlanta beat its Richmond farm club 8-7, Pittsburgh dropped Kansas City 4-2 and Minnesota edged its Denver farm team 4-3 and Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League upended Montreal 5-3.

Morgan, once one of the brightest prospects in the National League before injuries slowed him in two of his four seasons in the majors, had been having his troubles at the plate and entered the game hitting only .232.

"I've been too anxious at the plate," he said after raising his mark to .249 and scoring four runs, giving him 38 for the year.

Waiting for his pitch against the Cardinals, he singled in the first inning to start a two-run burst, kicked off a three-run rally in the fifth with another single, opened a two-run sixth with his eighth home run and then completed his night with a single that began a clinching four-run eighth.

Now his problem is to keep his hot bat during his two-week military stint and then avoid the injuries that wrecked him for six weeks in 1968 and for four months last season. Thus far, he has been in all of Houston's 54 games.

The 5-foot-7, 150-pound dynamo, turned down by several teams because he was so small, still managed to hit .285 in 1966 and .250 in 1968, although he got into only 10 games last year. In his two full years, he hit .271 with 100 runs scored as a rookie in 1965 and managed a .275 mark in 1967.

Morgan's safeties—he walked his other trip to the plate—helped the Astros end a four-game losing streak and dropped the disappointing Cardinals 11 games out of first place in the East Division.

Jim Wynn, batting behind Morgan, reached base four times on two hits and two walks and also scored four times as Denis Menke drove in three runs and Norm Miller, John Edwards and Jesus Alou each knocked in two in the 13-hit assault against five pitchers.

But the Astros, who came from behind a 4-2 deficit to win, needed six pitchers to stop the Cardinals as Tim McCarver had two RBI and Mike Shannon hit a solo homer.

Tommie Aaron hit two solo homers, Bob Tillman added a two-run shot and Sonny Jackson hit one with two on in Atlanta's victory.

Willie Stargell broke a 1-1 tie with a run-scoring double in the third inning as Pittsburgh took the lead to stay against the Royals.

Minnesota made up a 2-0 deficit and then broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth on Bob Allison's two-out, run-scoring double.

Hail Overcall As Harness Pacer Of '69

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Overcall was hailed by harness racing fans today as the best pacer of 1969.

The 6-year-old son of Cape-town-Overbid by Hal Dale silenced those who said he couldn't go 1½ miles by easily winning the $50,000 International Pace for the United States at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night and setting a world record for the distance of 3:02 3-5.

"I was a bit worried before the race," admitted driver Del Insko afterwards, "but once I got to the front after ¼ miles, I knew it was all over."

A turnout of 23,068 marveled as Overcall, owned by Mrs. Helen Buck of Far Hills, N.J., zipped the last quarter-mile in 29 3-5 seconds to wipe out the old record of 3:03 set by Targinius at Roosevelt Raceway, in 1964. He finished 8 lengths ahead of Blaze Pick of Canada.

It was the easiest kind of victory for Overcall, who now has won six in a row, including 5-for-5 this season. He put in just one burst, rushing up from fifth place after ¼ miles, and drawing out without need of urging in the stretch.

"I never touched him at any time with the whip," Insko said. "Now I'm certain something was bothering him when he finished sixth at ¼ miles last fall at Roosevelt. I felt certain he would break the record and get that $5,000 bonus."

Insko referred to the bonus the track management put up for a world record. Insko got $2,500 and Mrs. Buck the other half. While it didn't count in Overcall's official earnings, the magnificent pacer picked up $25,000 and increased his career earnings to $483,298.

Top Entrants Ready For Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — The test of the Champion is what they call it. Now it's up to Majestic Prince to pass it.

The test is Saturday's 101st running of the 1½-mile Belmont Stakes, and front-and-center will be the Prince, the penny-colored colt who is admired by horsemen and loved by letter-writing little girls.

Frank McMahon's unbeaten colt has the Roses and the Black-Eyed Susans and now he's shooting for the Carnations.

If he gets them, he'll be racing's ninth Triple Crown champion and the first to win the Kentucky Derby, Preakness Stakes and Belmont since Citation in 1948.

Out to stop him will be five other 3-year-olds—Rokeyby Stable's tough little Arts and Letters, runnerup in the Derby and Preakness; Claiborne Farm's stretch-running Dike, third in the Derby; Osmer S. Deming's Rooney's Shield; George Wallace's Prime Fool and King Ranch's Distray.

Each will carry 126 pounds. They'll leave the gate in the $125,000-added, classic at 5:37 p.m., EDT. The race will be televised from 5 p.m.-6 p.m. by CBS.

"The Belmont is a great race because it's one with few excuses," said Eddie Arcaro, the former jockey great who rode six Belmont winners.

"The fields are generally small and select, and the distance offers every chance for the horses to relax and run true."

Belmont's moment of truth was one of defeat for the four other colts who have had a shot at the Triple Crown since 1948. They were Tim Tam, 1968; Carry Back, 1961; Northern Dancer, 1964, and Kauai King, 1966.

Majestic Prince, Arts and Letters and Rooney's Shield put in their final works Thursday.

The Prince went a half-mile in 45 4-5 breezing and pulled up five furlongs in 59 flat. "He'll be at his best in the Belmont," said trainer Johnny Longden.

Arts and Letters zipped a half in 45 1-5, was caught easing up five furlongs in 57 3-5 and galloped out six furlongs in 1:11. "Arts and Letters is better now than he was before the Metropolitan (which he won last Friday)," said trainer Elliott Burch.

Rooney's Shield worked six furlongs in 1:12 2-5, and trainer

Nick Combest said the move settled the issue of the colt's starting in the Belmont.

Longden was in the saddle for Majestic Prince's prep. Saturday, the nine-race winner will be ridden by Bill Hartack.

Other jockey assignments are Arts and Letters, Braulio Baeza; Dike, Eddie Belmonte; Rooney's Shield, Larry Adams; Distray, John Rotz, and Prime Fool, Jorge Velasquez.

Majestic Prince is the early 6-5 favorite, with Arts and Letters rated 8-5 and Dike 2-1. Rooney's Shield and Distray each are 20-1 and Prime Fool 30-1.

In other Saturday features, Greengrass Greene, who ran sixth in the Preakness after leading the eight-horse field for most of the first mile, is a favorite among 11 probable starters in the $25,000-added Kent Stakes, a mile test on the grass for 3-year-olds at Delaware Park.

Fleet Allied, who ran seventh in the eight-horse field in the Kentucky Derby, is among nine probable starters in the $22,000-added Chicagoan Handicap, a seven-furlong test for 3-year-olds. Fleet Allied will carry 116 pounds and Mrs. Dorothy C. Rigney's Fast Hilarious, another favorite, has been assigned 127.

At Hollywood Park, eight probable starters are listed for the $50,000-added Ingewood Handicap, a 1½ mile test for 3-year-olds and up. Among the favorites are Gamely, 117, and Rising Market, high at 120. Gamely nosed out Rising Market in this race last year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Having already selected 563 prospects, major league baseball's 24 teams were prepared to dive into another pool of youthful talent today, hopeful of coming up with a few more choice pearls.

Beard, Maxwell Tie At Midlothian

MIDLOTHIAN, Ill. (AP) — A lesson from his father—"I always go to him when I want advice"—helped put quiet Frank Beard into a share of the first-round lead in the prestigious Western Open Golf Tournament. "It was just a simple thing," the man from Louisville said after shooting a five-under-par 66 Thursday and a tie for the top spot with veteran Billy Maxwell.

"I'd taken a couple of weeks off to work on my game before the open U.S. Open at Houston next week," Beard said and went to his father, Ralph Beard Sr., a former club professional, for advice.

"My father and I were just messing around, and he spotted something I was doing wrong. Just a mechanical thing. I had my hands too low at the address. I made an adjustment and that was it."

It was enough to put his irons in fantastic shape, sending them flashing at the pins like rifle shots. He had only one extremely long birdie putt, a 25-footer. "I've never seen him hit the ball any straighter," playing partner Jack Nicklaus said. "He could have shot a 62 or 63 real easy."

Not so for the 39-year-old Maxwell, a veteran Texan. "I scrambled all over the place," little Billy drawled. "It would take me 30 minutes to tell you everything I did."

"I was very fortunate to get what I did. I got all that I possibly could out of that round."

He and Beard had only a single shot lead on a couple of non-winners, Dick Ryan and Rocky Thompson, each of whom toured the 6,654-yard, par 71 Midlothian Country Club course in 67.

Five others were locked at 68, including South African Gary Player and former Masters champion Bob Goolby. Nicklaus, the defending champion, had to eagle the 16th to save a par 71, while Lee Trevino, Billy Casper and PGA champ Julius Boros all had 72s. Masters champion George Archer had a 74.

Arnold Palmer is not competing.

Maury Wills Comes Out Of Retirement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maury Wills was expected to bring his flying feet and grounded bat back to the Montreal Expos to-night, who can use all the help they can get.

The 36-year-old shortstop, who announced his retirement Tuesday night, changed his mind Thursday and notified general manager Jim Fanning of the Expos that he would rejoin the team here for the start of a weekend series with the Dodgers.

who had first pick in the free agent draft which began Thursday as a result of a last-place 1968 finish in the American League, will have to wait two weeks or so before they can sign Jeff Burroughs, an 18-year-old high school slugging sensation from Long Beach, Calif. The price may go as high as $100,000.

"I'm definitely interested in signing if the price is right," said Burroughs, who hit five balls out of Anaheim Stadium during a recent workout for Washington manager Ted Williams.

Williams said Burroughs has the most power he has ever seen in an 18-year-old.

"He doesn't have an outstanding arm or outstanding speed, but he has an outstanding bat," said Williams of the 6-foot-1, 200-pound Burroughs, who hit .569 this past season for Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach. Burroughs' class graduates later this month and he'll be eligible to sign then.

"I became a Ted Williams fan," said Burroughs. "It was quite an experience working out for Mr. Williams." Houston, picking second, took James Richard, 19, a 6-7, 225-pound pitcher from Kuston, La., but he may attend Southern University instead. He was a high school standout in both baseball and basketball.

The Chicago White Sox grabbed Ted Nicholson, a 6-5 third baseman from Laurel, Miss., and the New York Mets selected Randy Sterling, a pitcher from Key West, Fla.

Burger Chef Backs Pony League Team

A new team, under the sponsorship of the Burger Chef, has been added to the pony league roster bringing the total number of teams in that league to five.

In order to get a team, league officials were forced to take players from the other four teams.

John Rooker and Rickey Woltz were selected from the Savings Bank team. Mike Mills and David Parker were obtained from the Third National Bank squad. Roger Karr and Derek Morris were selected from the Kochheiser team. From the VFW roster, Rickey Sampill, Reginald Radcliff and Tom Spring were selected.

Also on the team are Frederick Archer, Dick Willison, Jerry Johnson and Brian Barthelme.

Managers are still needed for Pony League teams. The Burger Chef squad and the Savings Bank team both need managers.

Earlier Thursday night, Namath had announced he would hold a press conference Friday morning. A spokesman said the announcement would be "of a serious nature, concerning his football career."

Station WNEW said the reason for Namath's reported retirement was a squabble that he supposedly had with Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner. The dispute reportedly concerned the Jet quarterback's part ownership of an East Side lounge in New York City, the station said.

Namath was unavailable for comment.

Trans - Am Race Set At Mansfield

By TOM GARDENER
Associated Press Writer
MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) —

Five veterans of the Indianapolis 500 join more than 40 other sports car drivers Sunday for a share of nearly $20,000 in prize money in the Trans-American Sedan Championship race at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car course near here.

The Indy's 1969 Rookie of the Year, Mark Donohue, and 1963 Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones are tabbed as the men to beat in the 240-mile road race.

over the twisting 2.4-mile track. Peter Revson, another Indy rookie, who finished fifth this year, is teamed with Horst Kwech in a Mustang. George Follmer, who'll drive a Mustang teamed with Jones, and Ronnie Bucknam, teamed with Donohue in a Camaro, round out the list of "500" vets...

The race actually is two events in one with the over two liter and the under two liter cars competing against each other in their respective classes. Mustangs, Camaros, Javelins and Firebirds run in the over-two-liter class with the imported Porsches, Alfas, BMC Minis, Coopers and Lotus Cortinas competing in the under-two liter category. Top prize for the over-two winner is $2,500 with $1,300 going to the under-two champ.

Firestone, Goodyear, Ashland Oil and Champion have put up an additional $4,300. If a winner uses their product, he pockets an additional $550 to $1,250.

The field will be trimmed to 35 cars Saturday with the fastest qualifier earning $500 from the track and the second fastest getting $200. The fastest under-two liter qualifier also receives $200.

Sunday afternoon's race is the third of the 12 Trans-Am events to be held around the country this season under the sanction of the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA).

Entertainer Dick Smothers is fielding a Porsche for the race.

Jim Rynun Ready To Run Saturday
LOS ANGELES (AP) — World mile record holder Jim Rynun of Kansas heads a field including 23 United States Olympians which competes in the 30th annual Coliseum-Compton Invitational Track and Field meet on Saturday night.

Rynun, who withdrew from the starting field of the Kennedy Memorial Games last Saturday at Berkeley complaining of a sore knee, said this week that the knee seems all right.

as will 1968 under-two winner Bert Everett of Doylestown, Pa. National points will be awarded in the 9-6-4-3-2-1 SCCA manner.

Two Ohioans have said they'll be in the race — Dick Lang of Xenia, the current SCCA "A" Sedan national champ and Jerry Peterson of Chardon. Both will be racing in Independent Camaros.

Cincy And Chicago Set 3-Game Series
CHICAGO (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, winners in 11 of their last 12 games, open a three-game series this afternoon with the Chicago Cubs.

It's their first encounter of the season.

Tony Cloninger, 3-6, was called on to open the series against Ken Holtzman, 8-1.

Pete Rose, Cincinnati center-fielder and 1968 batting champion, is expected to be back on the playing field either this afternoon or Saturday. He has been away on two weeks' military reserve duty.

"I was very fortunate to get what I did. I got all that I possibly could out of that round."

He and Beard had only a single shot lead on a couple of non-winners, Dick Rhymer and Rocky Thompson, each of whom toured the 6,654-yard, par 71 Midlothian Country Club course in 67.

Five others were locked at 68, including South African Gary Player and former Masters champion Bob Goalby.

Nicklaus, the defending champion, had to eagle the 18th to save a par 71, while Lee Trevino, Billy Casper and PGA champ Julius Boros all had 72s. Masters champion George Archer had a 74.

Arnold Palmer is not competing.

Maury Wills Comes Out Of Retirement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maury Wills was expected to bring his flying feet and grounded bat back to the Montreal Expos tonight, who can use all the help they can get.

The 36-year-old shortstop, who announced his retirement Tuesday night, changed his mind Thursday and notified general manager Jim Fanning of the Expos that he would rejoin the team here for the start of a weekend series with the Dodgers.

Claim Namath Will Retire From Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath, Super Bowl hero of the New York Jets of the American Football League, will announce his retirement Friday morning from pro football, radio station WNEW said it had learned late Thursday night.

Earlier Thursday night, Namath had announced he would hold a press conference Friday morning. A spokesman said the announcement would be "of a serious nature concerning his football career."

Station WNEW said the reason for Namath's reported retirement was a squabble that he supposedly had with Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner. The dispute reportedly concerned the Jet quarterback's part ownership of an East Side lounge in New York City, the station said.

Namath was unavailable for comment.

Trans - Am Race Set At Mansfield

By TOM GARDENER
Associated Press Writer
MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Five veterans of the Indianapolis 500 join more than 40 other sports car drivers Sunday for a share of nearly $20,000 in prize money in the Trans-American Sedan Championship race at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car course near here.

The Indy's 1969 Rookie of the Year, Mark Donohue, and 1963 Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones are tabbed as the men to beat in the 240-mile road race over the twisting 2.4-mile track. Peter Revson, another Indy rookie, who finished fifth this year, is teamed with Horst Kwech in a Mustang. George Follmer, who'll drive a Mustang teamed with Jones, and Ronnie Bucknam, teamed with Donohue in a Camaro, round out the list of "500" vets.

The race actually is two events in one with the over two liter and the under two liter cars competing against each other in their respective classes.

Mustangs, Camaros, Javelins and Firebirds run in the over-two-liter class with the imported Porsches, Alfas, BMC Minis, Coopers and Lotus Cortinas competing in the under-two liter category. Top prize for the over two winner is $2,500 with $1,300 going to the under-two champ.

Firestone, Goodyear, Ashland Oil and Champion have put up an additional $4,300. If a winner uses their product, he pockets an additional $550 to $1,250.

The field will be trimmed to 35 cars Saturday with the fastest qualifier earning $500 from the track and the second fastest getting $200. The fastest under-two liter qualifier also receives $200.

Javelin racing team lead driver John Martin holds the qualifier record here of 81.59 miles per hour, but Mid-Ohio Sports, Inc., President Les Griebeling says, "If closed practice sessions held at Mid-Ohio last month by the Ford and Camaro teams are any indication, the qualifying record probably will fall to about 86.4 m.p.h."

Sunday afternoon's race is the third of the 12 Trans-Am events to be held around the country this season under the sanction of the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA).

Entertainer Dick Smothers is fielding a Porsche for the race

as will 1968 under-two winner Bert Everett of Doylestown, Pa. National points will be awarded in the 9-6-4-3-2-1 SCCA manner. Two Ohioans have said they'll be in the race — Dick Lang of Xenia, the current SCCA "A" Sedan national champ and Jerry Peterson of Chardon. Both will be racing in Independent Camaros.

Cincy And Chicago Set 3-Game Series

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, winners in 11 of their last 12 games, open a three-game series this afternoon with the Chicago Cubs.

It's their first encounter of the season.

Tony Cloninger, 3-6, was called on to open the series against Ken Holtzman, 8-1.

Pete Rose, Cincinnati center-fielder and 1968 batting champion, is expected to be back on the playing field either this afternoon or Saturday. He has been away on two weeks' military reserve duty.

Jim Ryun Ready To Run Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World mile record holder Jim Ryun of Kansas heads a field including 23 United States Olympians which competes in the 30th annual Coliseum-Compton Invitational Track and Field meet on Saturday night.

Ryun, who withdrew from the starting field of the Kennedy Memorial Games last Saturday at Berkeley complaining of a sore knee, said this week that the knee seems all right.

Burger Chef Backs Pony League Team

A new team, under the sponsorship of the Burger Chef, has been added to the pony league roster bringing the total number of teams in that league to five.

In order to get a team, league officials were forced to take players from the other four teams.

John Rooker and Rickey Woltz were selected from the Savings Bank team. Mike Mills and David Parker were obtained from the Third National Bank squad. Roger Karr and Derek Morris were selected from the Kochheiser team. From the VFW roster, Rickey Sampill, Reginald Radcliff and Tom Spring were selected.

Also on the team are Frederick Archer, Dick Willison, Jerry Johnson and Brian Barthelmas.

Managers are still needed for Pony League teams. The Burger Chef squad and the Savings Bank team both need managers.

Impala Custom Coupe

Match that, anybody.

We give you an honest increase in car at an honest decrease in price.

Take the '69 Impala above. We improved the ride. Made it quieter inside. Added an anti-theft locking device. Put steel guard rails in the doors. Still, this Impala with a 300-hp V8, Turbo Hydra-matic, advanced-design power disc brakes, head restraints, whitewalls and wheel covers is priced $101* less than in 1968.

The 300-hp V8 is priced $40 less than last year's 275-hp. Turbo Hydra-matic costs less. Power disc brakes about half as much. Whitewalls a little less. Wheel covers about the same. And head restraints are now standard.

Upping value and dropping price. That's the way Chevrolet operates.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Rogers Denies U.S. Is 'Wedded' To Viet Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that the training of South Vietnamese forces to take over more combat—and release American troops—is "moving along at a rapid pace."
Rogers also told a news conference in response to questions about peace negotiations on Vietnam that "We're not wedded to any government in Saigon."
"We're wedded to the principle that the people of South Vietnam will decide their own future," he said.

The caption also says these farmers are producing the highest yield of rice in North Vietnam despite the many hardships of war.
